McDERMOTT GOES ON TRIAL AT CANTON

Selecting Jury To Try Alleged Slayer Of Editor

Four Jurors Have Been Selected When Recess Is Taken

TWO ACCEPTED FOR JURY ARE WOMEN

McDermott Nervous As Trial Is Called And Selection Of Jury Is Started

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Dec. 6.—Patrick Eugene McDermott, debonaire defendant, alternately cast sneers at prospective jurors and exchanged "wise-cracks" with his counsel here today as a jury was being chosen for him for the murder of Don R. Mellett, intrepid vice foe, and publisher of the Canton News.

When court recessed temporarily at 11 a. m. two women and two men had been seated in the jury box. They were C. W. Reams, connected with a rubber firm; Mrs. Olive Huston, Norman Bierry, farmer, and Mrs. Annie Winnull.

McDermott Nervous

Of the venire of 62 talesmen drawn for the case, about a dozen had been excused on the ground that they had formed an opinion, were opposed to capital punishment, or other causes.

McDermott nervously chewed gum as his furtive eyes roved over the courtroom. Occasionally he slyly winked at acquaintances in the tiny section reserved for the public. At other times he talked from the corner of his mouth as he conferred with E. L. Mills and others of his counsel.

The crowd which sought to visit the courtroom was limited to about 125 persons, hundreds congregating in the halls and eagerly demanding of everyone who left the courtroom: "what are they doing now?"

OVERHEATED PIPE CAUSES FIRE LOSS

City firemen were called to the home of Harry Martin, 310 Harding street, last night about 8:45 o'clock by an alarm from box 33. The cause of the fire was an overheated stovepipe, which set on fire a beaver board partition. The lost was about $10.

Congress Assembles At Washington For Three Months Session

Mountain Of Problems Is Faced, But Little Action Is Likely

Treasury Surplus Disposal To Be Biggest Thing Up For Consideration

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Congress came back to work today—the same congress that was given such a shaking up at the polls a month ago.

It faces a vertiable mountain of problems, with only twelve scant weeks in which to solve them, and the opinion was general among the leaders when the gavels fell that the dying session of the 69th assembly will pass into history on March 4, next with comparatively little accomplished outside of the routine and the necessary.

Much Oratory.

It will be a session, according to its leaders, that will see much sharp fighting, much political maneuvering, much oratory, and little of first rate accomplishment. "Lame Duck" congresses rarely set any records for achievement, and this one is expected to prove no exception.

With the sentence of death already passed upon it at the polls, the efforts of the leaders will be devoted to keeping legislation off the statute books, rather than seeing how much can be put on. In this endeavor time is their chief ally, for there remains but twelve weeks of life to this "coolidge congress," so-called because it came into power on the crest of the 1924 landslide.

Disposal of the treasury surplus of nearly $400,000,000 ,farm relief and radio regulation—these problems constitute the trinity of major tasks confronting the members when they assembled today. If these are adequately dealt with, in addition to passage of the usual appropriation bills, administration leaders will write finis on March 4 fairly well satisfied.

Battle Over Treasury Surplus

The fight over the treasury surplus will be sharp. President Coolidge has recommended that these millions be turned back to taxpay-

BUCHAREST, Dec. 6. — King Ferdinand underwent an operation today, which was successful.

The operation upon the king was to relieve a hemhorroidal condition, it was stated.

An official communique stated that the operation "had the best results" and that the king an excellent recovery.

Previous reports had stated that the king might be forced to undergo a major operation for a chronic intestinal trouble. The operation performed today appears to have been a secondary operation.

Queen Marie Back Home Takes Up Her Official Duties

Presents Poor Society With $5,000 For Relief Work

BY J. N. ATKINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST, Dec. 6.—Queen Marie of Roumania, back home after her eventful American tour, lost no time today in taking up her official duties.

The reunited royal family is keeping aloft in Cotroconi Palace. Bulletins issued today by six physicians attending King Ferdinand declared the king's health has improved, so much that he is in no immediate danger.

The queen today attended a meeting of the committee which controls Roumanian charities, thru which Queen Marie is personally caring for the welfare of her poor subjects during the winter. She gave for the Roumanian poor $5000 which was given her by Roumanian-Americans.

Short Session Of Congress Is Started At Noon

Senate In Session But Twenty Minutes—House Remains Somewhat Longer

Senator Walsh Introduces Resolution Aimed At New Senator

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—The legislative machinery of the sixty-ninth congress slipped smoothly into gear at noon today and headed down the 12 weeks' road ahead of it.

Crowded galleries heard the falling gavels in both houses, despite the perfunctory nature of the sessions.

Senate In Session 20 Minutes

The senate was in session but 20 minutes, but in that time the wheels of a new senate investigation was set in motion—involving the right of Senator Arthur R. Gould to be seated. Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, sponsored a resolution to investigate charges that the new Maine solon "bribed" Canadian officials in a railroad deal.

In the house, the session was somewhat longer, due to the more unwieldy organization.

Both houses adjourned after ap-

Continue Attempt To Free Steamers Held Fast By Ice

121 Vessels Held Imprisoned In Ice Pack—Blizzard Rages

(International News Service)

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 6.—Hope of freeing the 121 ships valued at $150,000,000 held fast in the ice-jammed St. Mary's river with their crews of approximately 4,000 men waned today as the blizzard continued to rage. The entire fleet is suffering from lack of food and a number of ships are in dire need of coal. Coast guards will be despatched with food and supplies.

The ship blockade, said to be the worst in marine history, is several miles long on each side of the island. The ice formed a dam twenty feet deep. When a boat passes through, the ice fills in behind and the same difficulty is experienced by the next boat.

Use of thermite, ice destroying chemical used extensively in breaking up Pennsylvania ice jams last spring, has been suggested to officials of the Lake Carriers' Association. Whether they will use it has not been decided.

Eleven ships have been freed thus far. The last three released were the Assiniboia, Haggerty and Lake George.

Snowfall Shatters Early December Records In New York Since 1886

STORM IS GENERAL THROUGHOUT EAST

Seven To Twelve Inches Of Snow Are Reported In New York State

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Seven persons at least, dead, and much discomfort was caused by an unexpected snow blizzard that swept New York City and the Atlantic seaboard from the Delaware Capes to Maine.

Weather predictions for today are colder and cloudy, with the end of snow not yet in sight.

The snow attained a depth of seven official inches—the deepest for this time of the year since 1886.

The fall was general, extending from the Delaware breakwater to Maine and as far inland as Ohio.

Armies at Work in Clean-Up

Because of the week-end holiday, business was much less disrupted by the storm than would have been the case had it occurred during the week. Transportation and communication companies were given an opportunity on Sunday to put armies of emergency workers at the task of clearing the lines for the opening of business today.

Widespread suffering was caused. In the metropolitan district five lost their lives and many were injured as a result of the storm. Reports from the outlying districts were not complete. Fires, always the companions of storms and sudden drops in the temperature, were reported in various cities.

Demoralizes Shipping

The gale rolled up huge waves at sea which paralyzed shipping. In northern New York state the storm was more severe than in the metropolitan section. A fall from seven to 12 inches was recorded in Buffalo. There were three deaths there due to the storm, which was accompanied by a near-zero temperature. Syracuse reported a sweeping blizzard and zero weather.

New England, from Maine to Boston, recorded the coldest December 5 on record, with heavy snow and a high wind.

Clatter Of Auto Chains Replaces Sleigh Bells In Season's First Snow

While in the good old days the first heavy snowfall of the winter, such as that experienced on Sunday would have been the signal for the appearance of scores of sleighs and bob-sleds on the streets with their merry jingling bells, there was nary a sleigh to be seen here on Sunday, nor today.

There is enough snow to make excellent sledding.

But finding the sleigh is another thing in this day and date.

Gradually "sleigh riding" has faded into history.

It is problematical whether one could find a sleigh in all of this community that would be serviceable. A few bob-sleds might be located.

Now and then, while touring through the country districts one will see the remnant of an old fashioned "cutter" out in a field or barnyard, but whether or not they would offer any service at the present time is a moot proposition.

The clatter of auto chains is the only noise that greeted the arrival of the first snowfall this year, entirely replacing the old time music of the sleigh bells.

Dr. C. J. Williamson Makes Address At Memorial Service Sunday

LARGE NUMBER AT IMPRESSIVE EVENT

Impressive memorial services for departed brothers were conducted at the lodge rooms Sunday by members of the New Castle lodge No. 69, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks at whichh Dr. C. J. Williamson delivered the principal address.

Although weather conditions were inclement and snow was still falling at 3 o'clock Sunday members of the Elks with their families and friends who wished to keep vivid their memory of departed brothers, thronged the lodge room.

The meeting was opened with a march, "Conway' by Sweeley played by the Emery orchestra and the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee'" after which Rev. Williamson gave the invocation.

BULLETS HALT MAIL ROBBER

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 6. — A shower of police bullets frustrated a Christmas mail robbery in the Baltimore and Ohio railroad yards here today and led to the arrest of James Jones, a negro.

L. A. Peters, railroad detective, saw Jones seize a mail sack, containing many valuable Christmas gifts, and run for a waiting automobile parked nearby. When the detective opened fire the negro fled. Peters overtook him after a chase of several blocks.

Jones was held for postal authorities.

LITTLE BEAVER TOWNSHIP MAN ENDS OWN LIFE

Rufus W. Clark, 65, Shoots Self To Death At Home This Morning

While believed to be temporarily deranged, Rufus W. Clark, aged 65 years, shot himself through the heart this morning at an early hour at his home in Little Beaver township.

Mr. Clark was apparently in his usual health when he retired last evening. About 12:30 he got up and went into the front room of his home where he secured a shot gun from the clothes press. He placed the end of the gun on a chair and pulled the trigger with a yard stick. He had been in poor health for a number of years which likely is responsible for him taking his life in this manner.

Mr. Clark was one of the best known farmers of the community in which he had lived all his life. He was born on the adjoining farm to the one where he had spent his later years. His sudden death comes as a distinct shock to his immediate family and neighbors.

He was a member of the Bethel United Presbyterian church. Besides his widow Elizabeth Williams Clark to who he was married in 1883 he leaves one son, Ellis Clark of Little Beaver township and four grand children. He also leaves two brothers, Robert S. and William R. Clark both of North Beaver township and four sisters, Mrs. Charles Strohecker and Mrs. James Boggs of Little Beaver township, Mrs. Emma Gibson of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Mrs. Wilbur Gray of East Palestine, O.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday, December 8, at 1:30 p. m., from his late residence in Little Beaver township. Rev. George Neill, pastor of the Bethel United Presbyterian church will officiate.

How dear to my heart are those old fashioned winters, those winters of three months of ice and snow, when nights were so cold that the pump frooze completely, and days when the motors of cars wouldn't go. Those winters of clothes that ran much to red flannel, and stockings of wool that surrounded the feet, those days when the coal shed was rods from the kitchen, and pa hadn't yet got the fad of steam heat. Oh sing of those days if you like that condition, but winters more mild are enjoyed by a lot. And me I'd be pleased to migrate to the southland, where in spite of tornadoes, the weather is hot. How dear to my heart are those old fashioned winters, but much milder weather is dearer to me, I don't like red flannels, nor weather sub-zero, today is a doozer, it's down, thirty-three.

Santa Claus Party Forced To Land And Start Overland For New Castle

Exciting Adventures Are Reported On Trip Being Made From Alaska

Santa Says Nothing Will Stop Him Getting To New Castle Friday

By THOMAS DARE
By Radiogram to The New Castle News

PRINCESS ROYAL ISLAND, Can., Dec. 6.—Robert Burns once wrote a poem in which he said: "The best laid plans of mice and men, gang aft aglee", which as you might know, means that plans oftentimes miscarry.

Which is just what happened to this trip of the S. S. Joyland which has on board Santa Claus, the Good Fairies, the little Brownies, the North Wind, Jack Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Tautuk and Nuctooh, Mrs. Santa Claus and myself.

Broke a Shaft

As I told you in yesterday's radiogram, we got away from Nome, Alaska, in a hurry, and thought that everything would be all right. Then we had a bad storm, and to cap the climax a school of polar bears made it necessary for us to land at this little town on the Canadian coast and start overland in our sleighs again.

This is the way it happened. We had skirted that long tongue of land which is known as the Aleutian Islands, on down past Juneau and Sitka, and just as we were passing Queen Charlotte Islands we felt the boat hit something and then shudder as though it were human. We heard the captain yell "hard astern", which meant that he was ordering the pilot to reverse the engines, the telegraph bells were ringing, and then we all rushed to the side of the boat.

I wish you could have seen that sight. There must have been 50 or 100 polar bears all in a group, and five or six of them were floating on the top of the water, dead. The boat had hit the school of bears head-on and the captain told us that a shaft was broken.

Put In to Princess Royal

"Sorry", said the captain, "but you folks will have to wait for a few days before we can repair the shaft, or else we can put in to Princess Royal Island and let you start overland from there."

"That's what we'll do", said Santa Claus. "We can't lose a minute for the boys and girls in New Castle, Pennsylvania, are expecting me on December 10, and I wouldn't disappoint them for half a dozen boats."

So here we are, in a little Canadian village where the snow is three feet deep, and everybody is bundled up in heavy clothes. Of course we didn't notice the cold, for we had come from the Top of the World, where it's never warmer than 50 below zero.

The captain of the Joyland ordered the boat headed into Princess

Santa Claus Pageant Supporters Have Meeting This Morning

ARRANGEMENTS ARE BEING COMPLETED

A meeting of those who are responsible for the holding of the Christmas pageant in New Castle on December 10 was held in the Chamber of Commerce office at 10 a. m. Monday, Dec. 6, with General Chairman Rex Patch in charge.

Those present were as follows:

W. E. Gordon of the J. N. Euwer Co.

Charles Cripps of the Cripps Hardware Co.

L. W. Kisthart of the New Castle Dry Goods Co.

J. H. Hutton of the Kirk-Hutton Hardware Co.

C. P. Reyolds of the Reynolds-Summers Co.

D. L. Cole of the W. J. Offutt Co.

President F. L. Rentz of The New Castle News.

H. E. Bowman of the Book Shoe Co.

Speer Marousis of the Penn theater.

Charles Van Fleet of Cooper & Butler.

John Elliott of Elliott & Waddington.

W. G. Andrews of the C. Ed. Smith Hardware Co.

G. E. Bolinger of the Haney Furniture Co.

Rex Patch, general chairman of the pageant committee.

The line of march of the parade was decided upon as follows: assemble and form at corner of North street and North Jefferson street; proceed south on North Jefferson street to diamond; march around west side of diamond and east on East Washington street; countermarch at corner of County Line and East Washington streets and proceed west on East Washington street to diamond; then north on North Jefferson street to corner of North Jefferson and North street and disband.

It was reported by General Chairman Patch that all of those who had been requested to participate in the parade had kindly agreed and it is expected that this will be one of the largest celebrations ever held in New Castle.

Santa has wired that he and all of his attendants will be here to greet the children of this community on Friday.

Home Coming Is Observed In Central Christian Church

Home Coming Day which was observed on Sunday at three services in Central Christian church was attended by large audiences especially at the evening service.

The pastor, Rev. Jesse B. Porter delivered the message at the morning service. In the afternoon, Rev. Claude Downs, pastor of the Savannah M. E. church preached the sermon. In the absence of the chorister, Mrs. John Evans very ably conducted the song service. A duet number was given by Edna Strobel and Margaret Palmer and a solo by Mrs. Paul Smith.

The evening meeting was a service in Song and was much appreciated by the large audience. Thomas Phelps and Mrs. Alfred Evans sang a duet. This services was in charge of the chorister, William Richards.

SANTA CLAUS' PARTY FORCED TO LAND AND START OVERLAND

Royal and very slowly we limped in. As we got off the boat Santa gave the reindeer an extra feed and a little sugar to coax them to make speed, for we'll have to hurry to get into Seattle by Monday. Santa has already telegraphed ahead for a special carrier airplane to meet us in Seattle and from there we will leave Monday night for the trip across the United States to New Castle.

As this is being filed in the little telegraph station in Princess Royal Island, the sleigh is loaded up, everybody is tucked in under warm furs and Santa has his long whip cracking it.

"Hurry up there, Tom", he is saying, "we can't wait all day for you to telegraph. Make it snappy, for this sleigh has some hard traveling ahead of it."

Look It Up

If you think it hasn't, look up the map of the west coast of Canada and you will see just where we are. Far out in the distance we can see Mt. Hooker, and by Sunday morning we should be passing Mt. Robinson. From there we will head through Vancouver, B. C., and then into Seattle.

Everything is fine, except that we lost a little time on the boat. The present pack is filled to overflowing, little Nuctooh is asking if he can have an Eskimo pie, and the Brownies are getting impatient to get to New Castle.

You should read this in Monday's edition of The New Castle News. On Tuesday I will tell you of the trip into Seattle, and of starting from there in the airplane.

Be good, boys and girls, and don't forget that we will be in New Castle on December 10, prepared to put on a big pageant for you.

Town Talk

Every community has its David Harum, who trades things in his possession for things that others may have. They are usually successful in their chosen line, although they may never become the richest men of the community.

"Hauncy" Johnson might well claim that honor here. If you have anything you want to trade or sell, he is a good person to get in touch with.

Dogs, automobiles, radio sets, etc. It's all the same to him. During the past few months, he admits having traded and sold at least 200 dogs.

It reads like a fairy tale to hear him tell of disposing of one dog for a second hand automobile. Needless to say, he also disposed of the car.

Then there was an occasion when he came upon a dog which struck his fancy, but which had the appearance of having the mange. It might be remarked here that the dog was really very healthy but had rubbed the hair off in some manner.

He asked the owner how much he wanted for the dog. The price was something like $30. When attention was called to its indicated condition, the owner became interested in getting rid of it and Johnson drove away not only with that dog but another one, which had been given to him for taking away the other dog.

It is hardly necessary to say that the dog soon recovered from his apparently indisposition.

New Castle lads were out in force yesterday trying out the first snow of the season with their sleds. The snow wasn't just the right kind to make good sledding, they soon found. With the additional snow of today, of the flaky kind, the condition for sled riding will be fine about tonight, the boys believe.

Skiing is becoming a popular sport with the lads of New Castle. Quite a number of youngsters were noted skimming over the snow on slopes yesterday. The boys are not as yet experts on skils but they enjoyed the sport remarkably well.

Attendance in some of the churches of the city was rather hard hit by the inclement weather of yesterday. In others there were large crowds out despite the weather conditions.

The New Castle Electric company was prepared for the first big snowfall of the season and the snow sweeper was in activity early Sunday morning. Because of the mealy condition of the snow, however, street cars had rather hard going for a while. Autos pushed the snow back on the rails about as fast as the sweeper could sweep it off.

There are still a number of the reckless auto drivers, who persist in endangering other drivers and occupants of cars by travelling with traffic conditions as they were yesterday and are today, without putting chains on the wheels of their auto.

Early Christmas mailing is getting under way in increased force at the New Castle postoffice today, as parcels intended for shipment to distant states are being presented for despatching. Now is the time to get those Christmas packages into the mails, if they have to go across several states or to the Pacific coast.

New Castle Christmas savings checks have already been distributed by one banking institution of this city. Other banks will send theirs out this week, so within the week the sum of $350,000 or more will be in the hands of the members of the clubs for augmenting Christmas purchasing in this city.

It was noted today that Day Sergeant Frank M. Jones was wearing a new pair of eye glasses. When questioned as to whether the change was made through necessity or a desire to keep up with the prevailing style in glasses, Sergeant Frank was heard to say:

"Well you see I was afraid that I was not reading the offenses chalked up against motor offenders on the tags brought in. So I thought I would get the glasses, in order that I might not make the fines too small."

Nuf Ced, Mr. Motorist, just try and keep from offending against the traffic regulations and you will avoid meeting Day Sergeant Frank M. Jones and the possibility of threatened larger fines, if some of the regulations are not made more effective by charging small fines.

Standing room only is now at a premium in the municipal bunkroom as a result of the winter weather conditions. When you mention standing room in connection with a place to sleep it may seem a little out of order, but in the past few nights, there was one occasion at least, when there were more men seeking a night's lodging than could be accommodated, so some of the number might be said, literally, to have been compelled to spend the night standing, as there are no special seats in the place.

The average number applying for a night lodging in the place is now from twelve to fifteen, according to the police department attaches. If the present cold weather continues, there is every indication that the number will be greatly over the actual accommodations.

Evidently a large number of residents of the city who got accustomed to handling a snow shovel during the excess of snow last winter, have forgotten the art. Or, for some other reason, there were many sidewalks about the city that were not cleared of snow on Sunday, nor today. A percentage of residents however were faithfully at work and here and there was a stretch of sidewalk nicely cleared of snow.

Golf is hardly what might be termed a winter sport, but the course of the New Castle Field Club was the scene Saturday afternoon of activities along that line by a number of the more devoted followers of the ancient and honorable game. Yes, it was cold, very cold following the course and according to the reports eminating from reliable sources today, George Stitzinger was so cold that no one now knows what his score was.

Traffic Tied Up

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Western Pennsylvania was enjoying a brief respite today from a freak storm which froze driving rain into sheets of ice as fast as it struck the ground Sunday and resulting in almost complete traffic tie-up in Pittsburgh.

Streets, rails and telephone wires were coated with a heavy veneer of ice early yesterday when a heavy rain continued for hours while the mercury dropped nearly 35 degrees, turning streets and sidewalks into virtual skating rinks.

The local weather bureau held out only promise of temporary respite today, forecasting a combined snow and rain for tomorrow.

In Pittsburgh traffic was paralyzed for a large part of the day and one of the larger radio stations which had broadcast church services every Sunday morning for six years was forced to suspend operations when sheeted ice snapped electric wires.

New Low Record

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 6.—Blanketed in two inches of snow, central Pennsylvania faced at least another 24 hours of record-breaking cold weather.

By dropping to 12 degrees yesterday set a low record for December 5 in Harrisburg. The mercury hovered around 15 degrees at an early hour today and, according to the United States Weather Bureau, it is expected to show little change before tomorrow. The sun shone bright this morning, substantiating the prediction that the snowfall had ended.

State highway officials and the Pennsylvania railroad had crews clearing the snow which has hindered traffic for the past 24 hours. Pennsylvania trains, which were running behind schedule yesterday, were back to normal today.

Report Robbery In Seventh Ward

A report made Sunday to the police, was to the effect that the I. S. I. club in the seventh ward, had been entered some time between 11 and 12 o'clock on the night of December 3. The cellar windows were broken open and the latch unlocked. The Beaver Board walls of the place were also broken through in two places to unlock the doors.

Five dollars was taken from the candy case and the drawer of a desk was pried open to get the key of the upper part of the desk. Street car tickets and an unsigned check for Charles Perotta was taken.

A robbery was also reported this morning from No. 10 East Long avenue.

ers. The Democrats insist the surplus be made the basis for general tax reduction. It is the concensus that neither proposal can prevail, and that in the end the enormous surplus will go by default into the retirement of the public debt, now totalling approximately $19,500,000,000.

The fighting over farm relief will be even sharper. Mid-western members, fresh from the disgruntled grain belt, have revived the McNary-Haugen bill which President Coolidge considers "radical." The bill was defeated a year ago because the southerners would not support it. Since then, however, the south has been hard-hit by the decline in cotton prices. The bill's one chance of passage lies in a coalition of south and west. Few believe that it can be accomplished.

Radio Problem

A solution, temporary at least, for the present radio confusion probably will be found, if for no other reason than public demand for it is so great. The house has passed the White bill, giving Secretary of Commerce Hoover almost czar-like authority to regulate radio. The senate passed the Dill bill, creating an independent bureau with regulatory powers. A compromise between these two probably will be worked out.

Chief among the other questions to be dealt with are prohibition, Muscle Shoals, alien property, shipping board reorganization, railroad consolidation, primary slush funds etc. On all these matters opinion is so sharply divided that it is not believed possible to work out any definite disposal. The wet bloc, for instance, has organized to defeat any attempts at enforcement reorganization, sponsored by the drys, and by delays and parliamentary maneuvering can probably block any action for 12 weeks.

Forecast Extra Session

The dying 69th congress assembled with the threat of an extra session of the 70th hanging over it.

Recognizing the futility of accomplishing much in three months, the Democrats are openly forecasting an extra session right after March 4 to deal with the problems they feel will not be dealt with in this session—principally tax reduction and farm relief. In the seventieth congress the Democrats will be stronger, more militant, and in a better strategical position to enact their own program.

The present session will not really get down to business until Thursday. After the gavels fell today the usual adjournment was taken out of respect to dead members. Tomorrow will be devoted to hearing President Coolidge's annual message, and Wednesday to hearing the budget read and discussed. Thereafter the fighting begins.

A King could buy no finer gift than a "Buick."

Religious School Has Entertainment

Annual Entertainment By I. O. B. B. School Is Interesting Affair

Annual entertainment of the I. O. B. B. Religious school was held Sunday afternoon in the Temple Club hall. This event was given in commemoration of the Festival of Chanukah or the Feast of Lights. After the destruction of King Solomon's Temple, the Israelites under the leadership of Judah Maccabeeus, battled with the warring nation and defeated them, whereupon they rededicated the Temple and found enough oil in the cruse to light the sanctuary for eight days. So in commemoration, the event is celebrated by lighting candles for eight days, one on the first day, two on the second and so on until the eighth day. Remembering the poor and needy and giving them relief is also a part of the holiday.

There was a large number of people present at the entertainment given Sunday and the program proved interesting and enjoyable.

The program follows:

Opening hymn and prayer.
Piano solo (Soldiers Marching By) Josh Kaplan.
Ten Commandments—Charles Perelman.
Poem—Sara Cukerbraum.
Joseph's Candles—Jessie Aronson, Dorothy Fisher, Lester Levine.
Recitation—"My Shadow"—Natalie Ehrlich.

Plan Egg Show By Poultry Club

Members of the Lawrence County Poultry Club will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday, December 8, at 8 o'clock in the Lawrence County Agriculture Association office. H. H. Kauffman, poultry specialist from State College will speak. The plans are to hold a miniature egg show at this meeting, every member bringing one or more dozen eggs.

This show will benefit the producers in that it will show them the desirable eggs for the market.

Card of Thanks

We extend sincere thanks to friends and neighbors, for the many kindnesses received during the illness and death of our beloved wife, sister and aunt, Mrs. Annie Pape. We are grateful for the services of the Rev. Emrys Thomas and singers of the Emmanuel Baptist church, Mr. Rice undertaker, and for the beautiful floral tributes and cars donated.

SLEIGHS—AND MEMORIES!

A LOT of old-timers wouldn't take a good many hundred dollars for memories of sleigh-ride days in the past. They feel sorry for the young people who are denied the joys of snow vehicles in this generation of motor cars. Sorrier still for the people who, living in delightfully warm snowless climates, haven't even the memories of sleigh-rides.

'Twas a great sport, with a peculiar thrill for which there is no substitute. Today one sees modern youths, standing at the roadside, begging rides from passing autos. And those who recall the good old days when boys "hooked on" their sleds to passing sleighs and bob-sleds feel sorry for them. The world wasn't in such a nervous hurry then, and it was a rare driver who was too ill-natured and impatient to stop his horse while the lads "hooked on."

More thrilling, though dangerous, was to "hop" a swift-moving bob-sled, grabbing it as it went by, in peril of falling under the heavy runners. Mothers must have dreaded sleighing weather.

When pa courted ma, they rode in a fast cutter, gliding along as easily as on skates, for the frost tingling their cheeks and noses, with warm fur robes pulled up to the neck.

For social gatherings, there was the huge bob-sled, carrying as many as twenty, with a symphony of shouting and glad cries, feet kept warm in a deep flooring of straw.

Progress certainly has its price.

IT WASN'T WELL ADVERTISED

CLOSING of the Philadelphia sesqui-centenial exposition with a $5,000,000 deficit has been attributed to a number of things.

It is true that the opening of the gates before the completion of the exposition buildings and exhibits was a mistake. And the months of wrangling and playing peanut politics which made the opening of the exposition uncertain brought it into nation-wide disrepute.

These are factors entering into the financial failure of this latest and perhaps last world's fair in this country, but they could have been overcome by the same means which, if intelligently employed, could have made the exposition as great a financial success as it was a success as an attraction of international interest. This life-saver so tragically overlooked by the management was advertising.

Without intensive and extensive advertising a world's fair can not be successful. The Chicago world's fair and the St. Louis exposition were both advertised the world over by every advertising medium known to man. The world knew an exposition was in progress in Philadelphia in celebration of the sesqui-centennial of American independence but it did not know whether it was worth crossing the seas or the continent to see. The one medium through which they could have been told—advertising—was not resorted to.

That the exposition management did not take the fullest advantage of the power of advertising is inexplicable, in view of the fact that the managing directors were, virtually to a man, highly successful business men who are large buyers of advertising for their private enterprises.

SEVEN SEEDS OF FAILURE—

To believe that the world owes you a living.
To believe always that you are doing more than you are paid for.
To believe that all your failures are caused by something outside yourself.
To allow your visions to become mere dreams.
To allow your friends to substitute for your conscience.
To allow your temper to go unmastered.
To be satisfied with getting by when you might be making good.

A beautiful pair of eyes of heavenly hue,
And hair sublime and a form divine,
Thrill me through and through.
So now, though the still
Has gone from the hill,
I can get a thrill, you see,
From eyes like thine,
Which look into mine
And forever intoxicate mine.

OLD AGE

If you would old and feeble grow,
Dwell on the scenes of long ago,
Live o'er again the past;
'Twill store in your subconscious mind
Old age impressions, which you'll find
Approaching sure and fast.

Of things and scenes long passed away
May find much to regret.
'Tis better far to look ahead,
Let past years bury their own dead—

And let your inner conscience state
The truths to be believed;
Forgetting things that are behind,
Let aspirations fill your mind

Let only pleasant visions throng
Your mind in all its ways.
Then shall you realize the best
Of joys that fill the human breast,
And live out all your days.

Up in Meadville a window display night was held recently with the merchants all dressing up their store display windows with the latest and best of fall and winter and Christmas goods. Thousands of people were out and did window shopping that night and the stores felt the effect of it the next day in intensified shopping. The show window ought to be a vital force in selling merchandise, tying in with the newspaper displays at all times. The merchant who realizes this and acts accordingly is in a fair way to succeed.

The government weather bureau is making an effort to stop the amateur weather forecasters and guessers who assume to make predictions as to coming weather without any scientific basis for their forecasts. Many people get the predictions of some long-haired gym-crack from the back woods about a cold winter or a summerless year confused with the scientific forecasts the government makes. For instance, that Kane prophet in late summer predicted a long, hard winter and now he has changed and says it will be an open winter. He is guessing, pure and simple. The government forecasters have statistics to show they are 80 per cent right in their forecasts, and that is almost right enough to bank on. The little weather report, up in the right-hand ear of the top of The News is a government forecast and is official. That is the one to go by.

Cotton Below 12 Cents.
Biggest Steel Plant.
Wonderful Fertilizer.
Quieting Babies.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

January cotton fell below 12 cents Friday. Other months reached new low prices. That is something for the Republican administration to think about. Southern congressmen must protect their cotton growers. A combination of the farm bloc and the south could do many thing.

Charles M. Schwab promises Baltimore, at Sparrows Point, the world's largest steel plant, making Baltimore, instead of Pittsburgh, the steel center.

Pittsburgh is still to be heard from, also Judge Gary and Mr. Farrell of "big steel".

Baltimore has the great advantage of being within easy reach, by water freight, of the high-grade iron ore in Cuba.

However, the new process of steel making by electricity, diminishing rust, eliminating impurities, may change the whole industry more than Bessemer changed it. And the electricity process might move the steel center away from the coal beds to centers of cheap hydro-electric power. That would interest California.

Farmers will be interested in the world's most wonderful fertilizer, a new scientific production announced yesterday in Berlin. They call it nitrophoska, composed of phosphoric acid and potash.

It's a product of the German dye trust, and farm boards will want to know about it before placing their orders for the old type of fertilizer that contains about a pint of real fertilizer in a wheelbarrow full of sand.

Professor Murdock Cameron of Glasgow university showed Princess Mary, daughter of King George how he could quiet a crying baby. In a maternity hospital he took up one crying infant after another, put it face downward on one arm, smoothed it with his hand, patted it gently, and the crying stopped. But he would not tell his secret.

Millions of crying American babies for years were quieted with a dose from a bottle of so-called "soothing syrup" containing opium.

A soothing fortune was built on the syrup that killed thousands of babies. Doctors knew about it, and yet it went on, until recently.

Many a rich woman turning her baby over to "my wonderful nurse" little suspected that the wonderful nurse's power was locked up in the poisonous soothing bottle.

One thing mothers should know—it is NOT natural for babies to cry, and it is NOT good for them.

Whimpering by a tired baby, before going to sleep, or an angry cry from a hungry baby waiting for food, means nothing. But hard crying means something wrong that should be righted.

Poland complains to the league of nations—france and Britain are agitated about "German forts on the east Prussian frontiers". France is anxious that Germany shall not have an army.

Germany's forts on the eastern frontier would be useful should the big Bolshevik bear start on a conquering expedition toward the west. France, Britain and Italy may yet look to Germany to hold back those forces from the east.

Russia is saving her money, her people are working, her wealth and population are gigantic. She knows enough to build flying machines and can call on unlimited Asiatic population if she doesn't want to have her own young men shot too quickly.

Western Europe should endeavor to organize for future trouble instead of keeping up the old jealousies. The German republic does not want war; knows there is nothing in it.

The so-called "rebels" of Nicaragua have installed as president Juan B. Sacassa, who hurriedly appoints a cabinet, preparing to war on Diaz. The latter requests Uncle Sam to come down and maintain order. As long as the "rebels" do not bother the Panama canal we should let those gentlemen fight it out. They didn't bother us when we had our Civil war. Why should we dictate to them? A wise man said, "Nobody ever got poor taking a profit or minding his own business."

The unpleasant difficulty about being a dictator resides in the fact that so many people are anxious to shoot you. This time it is Primo De Rivera's turn. Three that wanted to dispose of him have been arrested.

The Bolshevik government continues war against Trotzky, once head of the Russian army under Lenin, now pushed from pillar to post. His last job was head of a government hydro-electric power plant. That is taken from him.

In Day's News

In the session of congress which convenes today the attention of radio fans will be centered largely in Senator Clarence C. Dill who has announced that he will seek an early break in the legislative bloc over the radio control bill. Mr. Dill is one of the senators from the State of Washington and the youngest man ever sent by that state to the upper house. Prior to entering the senate he had served two terms in the lower house being the first Democratic congressman elected in the State of Washington in many years. Senator Dill followed the best American traditions by being born on an Ohio farm, tilling the soil in early manhood and then teaching school to earn funds for a college course. For a time he worked as a street car conductor and later became a newspaper reporter. In 1908 he went west to Spokane, where he began the practice of law and enter upon a career of politics.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE NURSE

Probably the most important way in which modern medical service differs from what it used to be is nursing.

Almost all of the actual contacts with the patient and the care for the patient are by the nurse.

She works under the direction of the doctor, of course, but a large part of the efficiency of the doctor's care rests upon her shoulders.

That she is hard-working, faithful and patient goes without saying.

Much cerdit is due to the Visiting Nurses Organization whose members go into the houses of the poor and instruct them in proper sanitation.

They do much for the prevention of disease as well as in caring for the sick when they are stricken.

The Visiting Nurse Service of the Henry Street Settlement is making a drive for a million dollars—$500,000 for an endowment, and $500,000 toward the maintenance of the service.

The two hundred self-sacrificing nurses now engaged in their work made 235,537 visits during the first eight months of this year; 39,939 visits were made to the health centers for examination and advice; 3,897 mothers received help and instruction at pre-natal clinics; and 1,340 children attended preschool clinics.

These figures may not be very interesting, but they show an immense amount of work done by these women and work that surely calls for the co-operation of all who are interested in the welfare of mankind.

There may be some question about this or that charity, but there can be no question about alleviating the pains of a man that is sick or preventing his sickness.

Without regard to race or creed or color they respond to the call of humanity and willingly devote themselves to its service.

If the people can pay for the service they may, but if not the service is free.

Thirty-three years ago this work was started by Miss Lillian Wald and her influence still counts.

From all over the world visitors come to New York for training and suggestions. Many nurses train here and go back to their work. One of them is now preparing to go to Africa.

It would be hard to think of any helpful work about which there is less question and less dispute than the work of the visiting nurse, and it is a charity that deserves the co-operation of the whole community.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ONE TO FRAME AND HANG.

Sticktoativeness is a quality which has spelled the success of many men. The "rolling stone" may gather a lot of polish, but it doesn't collect much "moss" or ducats. Josh Billings once said something about this quality, and what he said should not be forgotten. He said: "Konsider the postage stamp, its usefulness konsists in its ability to stick to the one thing until its gits thar." Like Poor Richard, Josh Billings put a great amount of philosophy in his misspelled advice.

Some times the business man is very much discouraged. He feels he has picked out a very poor spot in which to engage in business. He has, however, acquired a few steady customers and is able to earn the necessities of life. He sees some friend in another community engage in his line of business, making a great deal more than he is. He does not stop to consider that his friend has been a member of the other community much longer than he has of his. He believes that if he would sell what he has, and move to his friend's town, he likewise would be able to earn luxuries, as well as necessities. He does this, and finds himself worse off.

Every little bit added to what you got, makes just a little bit more, and the persistent man sticking to his business, attending thoroughly to all of its details, building it up, nursing it along, finds that eventually he arrives at success.

It would pay every man to print and paste on cardboard Josh Billing's eulogy to the postage stamp, frame it and hang it where he can see it every mornig. It would do him a world of good.

Just Folks

The Missing Elocutionist.

As swiftly come the days and go,
And customs vanish with their flight,
No more we see the oil lamps glow,
No more the Welsbach burners bright,
Long since the "what-not" left our sight;
And these are not sorely missed,
But where's the girl who could recite?
The family elocutionist?

Now sleigh bells tinkle low
The roads not long are gleaming white,
A lass still waits to meet her beau,
But out the journey every night.
Ice cream and cake still bring delight,
Small boys still laugh when maids are kissed;
But where's the girl who could recite?
The family elocutionist?

No more the album plush we show,
And flowers of wax have vanished quite,
Quartettes still warble "Soft and Low,"
The village cut-up's here all right
Of long forgotten things I might
Compile today a lengthy list,
But where's the girl who could recite?
The family elocutionist?

Prince 'tis of long-lost fads I write,
Once loved now vanished like the mist.
Where is the girl who could recite?
The family elocutionist?

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

Aiken, S. C.

Mr. C. H. Towne.

Dear Sir: I see with interest the old poems printed in your department of "Poems I Love"—So I am writing to ask if you will not print the old nursery rhyme of "The Owl and the Pussy-Cat." I only can recall a few lines of it, and would like so much to see the whole poem if such it may be called.

If it is too long to print I would appreciate it very much if you would let me know where I may find a copy.

With thanks, believe me, sincerely yours,
MARION PELLEW.

One feels Edward Lear's mastery of rhythm in this delightful poem so familiar to children of nursery age as well as their elders. He frequently composed tunes for Tennyson's lyrics as well as his own, but unfortunately could not set them down on paper. Lear, who was also a painter of note, was born in England in 1812. In 1827 he began to draw "for bread and cheese," and in 1835 turned to landscape painting. In 1845 he gave Queen Victoria drawing lessons. Although in ill health he continued to paint and write until he died at the age of seventy-six. His "Book of Nonsense" is perhaps his best known work.

The Owl and the Pussy-Cat

The Owl and the Pussy-Cat went to sea
In a beautiful pea-green boat;
They took some honey and plenty of money
Wrapped up in a five-pound note.
The Owl looked up to the moon above,
And sang to a small guitar,
"O lovely Pussy! O Pussy, my love!
What a beautiful Pussy you are,—
You are
What a beautiful Pussy you are!"

Puss said to the Owl, "You elegant fowl!
How wonderful sweet you sing!
O let us be married—too long we have tarried.—
But what shall we do for a ring?"
They sailed away for a day and a day
To the land where the bong-tree grows,
And there in a wood, a piggy-wig stood
With a ring in the end of his nose,—
His nose,
With a ring in the end of his nose.

"Dear Pig, are you willing to sell for a shilling
Your ring? Said the Piggy, "I will."
So they took it away, and were married next day
By the Turkey who lives on the hill.
They dined upon mice and slices of quince,
Which they ate with a runcible spoon,
And hand in hand on the edge of the sand
They danced by the light of the moon,—
The moon,
They danced by the light of the moon.

Attorney Davis Censures Council

Asserts Dilatory Tactics In Connection With Logan Street Sewer Project

Attorney Charles Davis today censured city council because of their dilatory tactics in connection with his client's petition for a sanitary sewer in Logan street.

After council had discussed the proposition for more than one hour, which was but a continuance of several discussions in the past Attorney Davis said:

"There are many things which come before you that you do not wrangle about. You have been wrangling for months about this sewer. If you wish to spend $1200 for a plot of land you do it without wrangling because the women want it for a playground.

"We have a proposition for a sewer and the city has a right to build it. I do not understand why council should dilly-dally about it and they should have it put in a built up portion of the city without delay. I do not thing council is treating the property-owners right.

"One man is ready to rent his property to tenants. Whenever you get to a point to do something, someone else comes in with a kild-goose proceeding and further delay results. The thing for council to decide is the best way it can be put in. The cheapest is not always the best."

After Attorney Davis unburdened his feelings council took cognizance of the time that has been sapped by the matter and passed unanimously two motions made by Councilman Genkinger, the first of which instructs the city engineer to report on the feasibility of laying the sewer in a ravine located in the rear of lots on the wist side of Logan street, and the second motion, instructing the city engineer to report on the feasibility of building the sewer beneath the sidewalks on the west side of Logan street.

Attorney Davis' contention is that property-owners have a right to have a sanitary sewer and that when property-owners petition for such it is city council's duty to provide it.

When Solicitor White is ordered to draft an ordinance for the sewer it is probable that the exact location will be designated in the ordinance so assessments can be collected. Unless the exact location is designated there would be a doubt as to whether collection of assessments could be made, according to White.

Congress To Balk On Refunding Tax

President's Suggestion Is Not Likely To Meet Favor Of Congress

Believe Surplus Will Go Toward Retirement Of National Debt

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.—Congress is almost certain to balk at President Coolidge's proposal for a partial refund of federal taxes to take care of the present treasury surplus, and the balking will not be confined to that portion of the senate and house represented by the traditionally unruly Democratic donkey.

The treasury surplus has been like a hot potato in tender hands. Something has to be done with it, and that something must please all the classes and groups which contributed to its making. President Coolidge recently came forward with the suggestion that it be peeled, sliced and served to the taxpayers of the nation in the form of a partial refund on last year's income tax. His suggestion raised a salvo of comment, much of it adverse.

While it is doubtful if the president will embody this particular recommendation in his annual message to congress next Tuesday, it is believed that he will advocate some temporary tax relief measure along similar lines.

A review of opinions and comment expressed by members of congress who already have returned for the opening of the short session indicates that the refund proposition will meet with strong opposition on both sides of the aisle. The position of Democratic leaders is epitomized in the statement of Representative Garrett of Tennessee, minority leader of the house.

Opposes Tax Refund.

"I do not think there is the slightest chance of the administration's proposal of a tax refund being enacted," Representative Garrett said, "but if the majority will make a genuine move toward tax reduction all along the line they can depend upon the minority for sympathetic cooperation."

A number of Republicans take the stand that, while the federal government is some $380,000,000 to the good on the books this year, there is no assurance that the surplus in tax receipts will be continued next year, and congress would be severely criticized if it effected a tax refund now and was forced to raise taxes to meet the needs of the government later.

The president had a group of Republican leaders at the White House the other day for a conference on tax and surplus questions. Among the group at least two—Representative Green of Iowa, chairman of the house ways and means committee, and Representative Bacharach of New Jersey, an influential member of the committee—were opposed to the Coolidge proposal of a tax refund.

Amount of Gift.

Representative Bacharach declares that a refund on last year's taxes would amount, in actual application, to an outright gift to the large corporations of the country. Such a refund, he says, would go principally to those big corporations who are the largest contributors in the way of federal taxes, and the corporations already have included this tax paid on last year's income in their business calculations for the year, and have passed the charge on to the public. With the tax passed on by this time to the consumers of corporation products, a refund now would amount in effect to pure "gravy" for the big corporations, in the opinion of Mr. Bacharach.

Representative Green takes the position that the farmers and the people in the west realize that the money would go mainly to the big business interests in the event of a refund on taxes, and they see no prospect of benefit for the farmers or the "little fellows" in the proposal.

A majority of both parties in both the senate and house, it is believed, will oppose the administration's plan or any other plan for refunding a percentage of the taxes already collected unless it provides for paying the greater part of the treasury surplus to the "little fellows" who paid but small amounts but felt the tax heavier than the "big business" corporations.

The members of congress representing the "rural" districts would subject themselves to severe criticism if they voted for any plan to rebate the larger part of the big treasury surplus to the corporations. The "farm" representatives in congress can be depended upon to oppose any refund plan because the "farmers" would get no part of it—and there are sufficient "farm" representatives to hold the balance of power on this question.

Congress is almost certain to turn down the Coolidge refund plan and allow the $380,000,000 treasury surplus to go to retirement of the national debt which mounted to huge figures during the World war. Reduction of the national debt while unspectacular is an effective method of tax reduction over a long period. With interest accruing regularly, it costs the public less in the long run to retire a government bond now than later.

NORMAN COLTON

Personality is an intangible quality which leads to success in business and industry as well as in the artistic world.

An attempt to analyze Norman Cotton's very effective portrayal of John Bruce in "A Lucky Break" leads back to that elusive word—personality. A fine voice and a capacity for real work undoubtedly contribute much to Norman's success on the stage, but we still contend that personality is the leading factor.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all know drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory disease, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Expect State To Be Represented On Commission

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 6.—Pennsylvania soon will be represented on the Interstate Commerce Commission for the first time since the commission was created in 1887, according to rumors in political circles here today.

The names of three Western Pennsylvania men were mentioned prominently as possible successors to Commissioner Frederick I. Cox, of New Jersey, whose term expires on December 31. They were S. Ray Shelby, Uniontown, a member of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission; Cyrus E. Wood, of Greensburg, former ambassador to Japan; and Frederick C. Baird, of Pittsburgh, former federal prohibition administrator.

It is understood that Commissioner Cox will be a candidate for re-appointment, but the belief prevailing among observers here is that the strenuous fight the Pennsylvania delegation in congress has made for representation on the important rate fixing commission will be rewarded at the expiration of Cox's present term.

At the last session of congress when the confirmation of Thomas F. Woodstock as a commissioner was in issue in the senate, Sen. David A. Reed, R, of Pennsylvania, agreed to vote for Woodstock only after receiving assurance from the White House that his state would receive consideration in filling future vacancies.

Pennsylvanians have been especially desirous of obtaining representation on the commission because of a large percentage of cases considered by that body have their source in this state.

Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

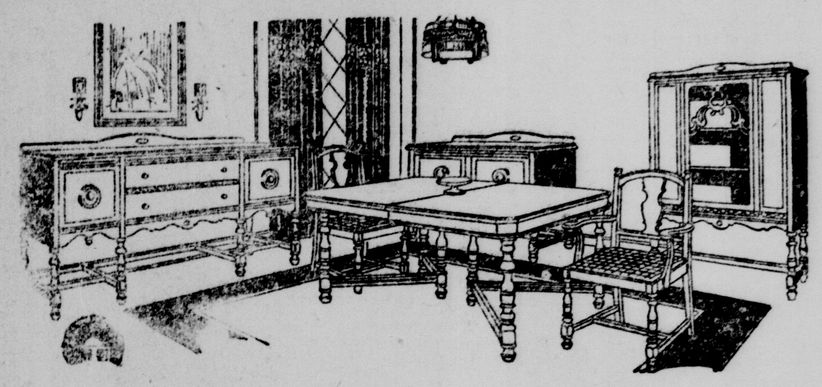

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

Race With Winter By Contracting Co.

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 6.—A race with winter was in progress here today by the Central Construction Company which has contracted to deliver complete on September 1, 1927, at the end of 300 working days a new million dollar high school building.

Delays in shipment of cut stone, failure of weather conditions to stay up to the average and other handicaps have made the race all the more interesting.

Efforts now are being centered on completion of one wing of the huge building in the hope that this can be enclosed before the severe frigid weather arrives, thus preparing a means for inside work during the winter months.

Check Artist Is Working New Game On Local People

New Castle people having apartments or rooms for rent are warned to be on the lookout for a crook who has been operating here during the past few days. The man is well dressed and makes a favorable impression.

In one case brought to the attention of a News reporter, he went to a house, looked over furnished rooms and stated that they suited him exactly. He said that his wife was at a hotel waiting until he secured rooms. The rent for the rooms was $10 a week. He said that as the bank was closed he would draw a check for $20, as he would have to get some groceries.

The woman refused to accept the check and give him $10 in change, telling him that she would wait until the next day until he could get his check cashed. The man said all right, he could get along. He then took off his coat, hung it on a nail, and asked to use the telephone.

He then called up a grocery, and asked if the groceryman could deliver an order at a certain number. Presumably receiving a favorable reply he gave a short list of things wanted, and then concluded by saying that he had nothing less than a $20 bill and asking that change be sent with the delivery boy. When the boy came with the groceries, the man gave him a check for $20 and received his change in cash, the boy evidently not having been told that it was to be $20 in cash, and believing that the change was for the check. After receiving his change the man left the groceries in the house, departed, and failed to return. The woman called up the grocer and told him to investigate. The groceryman called the bank on which the check was written the next morning and found that there were no funds on deposit to the name signed to the check. The groceryman took his groceries back.

ABE MARTIN On Photography

GITTIN TOOK FIFTY YEARS AGO

Ther's been giant strides in th' art o' photography since 1876, when Artist Luther Plum used t' load up his spring wagon an' go out t' make a "view" of a family group, a fancy bull, or an ole homestead. He carried a heavy sectional tripod, a black tablecloth, a portable dark room, a big accordion-like camery, a tank o' collodion, a jug o' nitro-cellulose, a galvanized iron tank, a lot o' plates, a gallon o' silver nitrate solution, an' other sundries necessary in th' production of a photograph at that time. Less favored field photographers carried all o' this junk on ther backs. I'm told th' photographic industry owes its wonderful development t' th' introduction o' th' gelatin' process, but I believe it would have come along anyhow. All of us sooner or later must meet up with a photographer. No one escapes. However, th' process o' bein' photographed t'day is simple, even pleasant, but in th' strugglin' years o' th' art it wuz an' ordeal t' be looked forward t' with th' darkest misgivin's. Not only wuz th' fasion o' clampin' an' proppin' th' subject in a position satisfactory t' th' photographer a terrifyin' experience, but th' result wuz nearly allus sure t' take all th' starch out o' th' victim, along with whatever conceit he might have. Th' early photographer wuz a great leveler. We have only t' look through an ole family album t' see what our forebears went through an' tried t' live down—dull, mackeral eyes, iron lapels, tin neckties, pasteboard collars, wire hair, frozen whiskers, inverted chins, moles, tight lips, crisp, well-defined ears, tacked on mustaches, cemented sideburns an' hard, flinty Adam's apples. Not a soft, warm line anywhere, not a spark o' animation, not a natural, careless fold or curve, everything ironed out an' nailed tight an' secure. T'day photography is called th' handmaid an' tool o' all th' sciences. It's used t' run down microbes, criminal, an' exploit charmin' hostesses, p'litical cannydates, social first steppers, an' ole couples that have held t'gether fifty years. All excursionists an' weekenders carry cameras, while cameramen are th' first t' reach ever' railroad an' auto catastrophe, t' say nothin' o' hangin's an' outdoor weddin's. Th' most extraordinary photographic development, next t' th' Niagary Falls, or excursion type o' camera, is th' movin' picture machine. This marvelous invention makes it possible fer us t' set in a the-ater an' look on animated events in ever' part o' th' world, Chinese riots, tennis tournaments, Indian uprisin's, channel swimmin', national beauty contests, hurricanes, an' Mayor Kendrick, o' Philadelphy. Prob'ly one o' th' most important fields of applied photography is that o' th' X-ray. Radiography is about th' niftiest thing fer doctors an' dentists that's come along an' it's claimed by radiographic experts that more stomachs an' gums are photographed than yeast eaters.

Checker Players Make Ready To Start Tournament

A meeting of the Checker Players Club was held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening to outline the plans for the coming winter tournament.

The following rules and regulations were made:

Every person playing in this tournament must be a member of the Y. M. C. A. Checker Club. The double knockout system will be used in all games. Up to the time of the final match, which will be made up of six games, four games will constitute a match. As far as possible the games will be played every Saturday evening, beginning at 8:30. Drawings will be made Saturday, Dec. 11, to let the players know who they will be scheduled to play against and every man wishing to enter this contest must hand their names to Walter Kirker or John Leonard at the Y. before this time. The first half of the players to be eliminated will form a league of their own, a first and second prize being awarded to the winners of this set, as is the case in the larger.

Arlie Spicer, the winner of last year's tournament, will not be able to play this year, but he will referee as many games as possible.

Bruno And Carson Bring Down Deer

Henry Bruno, 506 Ray street and Joe Carson, Butler avenue, hunting with friends in Elks county, have got their deer!

Police Officers Stop "Fire-Eater" Arrest Promoters

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Arrested in a raid on the alleged fake spiritual meeting where a "fire-eating" act was being performed by S. R. Yetero, a Mexican, three men and three women were to be arraigned in police court today charged with being "suspicious persons".

Police took the names of 200 spectators at the seance, but arrested only those in charge of the meeting, which included Dr. Charles Buzzard, who said he was head of the Mt. Hope Spiritual church.

"Charms" of various descriptions were offered at the meeting for $10 to $15, police charged.

New Castle Folks Meet In California

Word was received from Mrs. C. F. Wilson, formerly of New Castle but now located in Inglewood, California, to the effect that she had entertained some friends in her home in Inglewood in honor of her mother's birthday, Mrs. Etta Pinney, who recently went to Mrs. Wilson's home.

All of those present were former New Castle people and were raised in Croton before there were any street cars or electric lights.

An extract from the letter is as follows:

"It sounded like a Chinese school to hear all of those present trying to speak at once about the good old times and the big fish they caught in the old Neshannock. Fred Vandegrift said it took the old Croton boys to catch the fish."

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Williamson are very much impressed with the California climate and also the fine fruits and vegetables which we have here. It looks like we would have them for permanent neighbors.

Mrs. Ernest McCray gave a reading and everyone had a good time.

Refreshments were served at a late hour, with roses from the garden forming the centerpiece of the table.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ike Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cline and daughter, Catherine; Mr. and Mrs. E. McCray, Fred Vandegrift and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wilson and sons, Frank Jr. and Tom Mason.

We are planning to have a New Castle day here, as there are quite a few folks here from New Castle.

Heavy Snowfall Arrives In City

Sand Like Snow Makes Traffic Hindrance Here On Sunday

Those of you who wanted a sample of "those old fashioned winters" must have got up Sunday morning with a smile on your face, or faces, or to be technical with a smile on each and every face. Only one to a customer.

It was winter, still is in fact, and according to the Pittsburgh weather man, Meteorologist W. S. Brotzman, we're going to have it with us for some little time.

Snow Like Sand.

Late Saturday night, or rather early Sunday morning, the snow storm arrived but instead of the well known "beautiful" it was more like sand, hitting the windows with a rattle that sounded like a husband getting home from lodge, who had forgotten his key, and was trying to waken the wife by throwing sand up at the bedroom window.

Ever since driving an automobile has been a feat, the sand-like nature of the snow meant that your wheels didn't track like they should, and respectable old autos of the vintage of 1918 acted up like 192 colts.

Very pretty if you like that sort of weather. Some of the apartment tenants in the city were all for putting alcohol in the radiators in their rooms to keep them from freezing, and the coal men enjoyed a quiet Sabbath chuckle over the prospects of another "coal shortage due to the damends of Great Britain."

The snow sweeper of the traction company was out all day Sunday sweeping the tracks clear of snow and up until noon the symphony of a thousand shovels filled the air. Not that every householder cleaned his sidewalk, most of them didn't, but some did.

Yep, its a cross section of your old fashioned winter. Pretty to look at, but hard on the coal bin.

BLAME HUNTERS FOR DESTROYING SIGNS ON ROADS

State Highway Department Says Many Reports Of Damage Received

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 6—"Despite the warning issued a month ago by this department to hunters regarding the destruction of highway signs and reflectors" said W. H. Connell, engineering executive and acting secretary of highways today, "we have reports from all over the state that hundreds of signs and reflectors have been destroyed since the beginning of the hunting season.

"Every reflector signal on a stretch of road 20 miles long in the western part of the state has been destroyed.

"It will not only cost the state considerable money to replace the destroyed signs, but the absence of necessary signs for even a short period will jeopardize the lives of motorists and may result in causing accidents. Danger signs for day driving and reflector signals for night driving are placed at locations that are dangerous and if they are destroyed there is no warning to the motorist of dangerous locations."

Heavy penalties for this misdeamor await the offender. They include a fine with all costs of prosecution, together with the value of such signs so destroyed and in default of payment imprisonment in the county jail for a period of from five to 60 days at the discretion of the court.

"I do not think anyone would wilfully destroy such signs or reflectors" continued Mr. Connell. "I think the damage has been caused by individuals who have shot at these signs without realizing the seriousness of what they are doing. We are asking the hunter to help in a campaign to reduce the accidents occuring on highways by protecting the danger signals that the department has erected to protect lives. Each violation of this law should be reported immediately to the state police so that steps can be taken to prosecute violators."

I Aid Girls To Beauty with the helps I use

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Despite my daily work on the stage, I conduct a vast enterprise to supply girls and women the beauty aids I use. These helps are the final result of 40 years of searching. I owe to them my famous beauty and my perennial youth.

To discover these formulas I have made 35 trips to France. I have spent not less than $100,000 in my quest. And every summer I go again to Paris to find anything new or better. So I feel sure that mine are the best beauty helps in existence. Now they are helping millions to new beauty and new youth.

One of these is Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. It combines many helps in one, including products of both lemon and strawberry. My marvelous complexion is largely due to this cream.

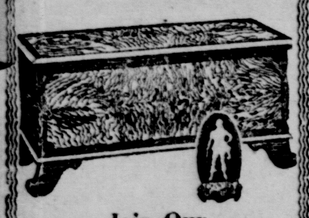

My Youth Cream comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use one at night, the other in the day. Never is my skin without this priceless help. I urge you to learn what it means to you.

All toilet counters supply my Youth Cream. Please try it. The results will amaze and delight you.

Expect Early Decision On Bus Line Permit

State Commission Is Expected To Act Soon On Reading Applications

(From News Bureau State Capital.)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—An early decision is expected by the Public Service Commission on the applications made by officials of the Reading company to operate bus lines in Schuylkill and parts of Dauphin and Northumberland counties. This case has been pending before the commission for months and according to some sources it is believed that he P. S. C. will dispose of these requests before many more weeks.

The Reading is meeting with stiff opposition in its efforts to get into the bus business. Despite the governor's refusal to sign the charters for both the Reading and Pennsylvania bus companies the former can go into business if the commission grants the applications of the officials. Already the Pennsy has buses on the roads in several sections of the state. These are operated on certificates granted to F. J. Scarr an official in the bus company.

According to some advices these carriers may again apply for incorporations after Governor Pinchot is out of office. They may change their tactics somewhat and instead of asking for almost a statewide charter seek for a particular county and if then approved get amendments to its grant.

Purchase of existing companies is another possible method seen if the steam road hope to embark in the auto transportation field. It is also believed that the commission will grant some of the routes asked for by the Reading. If such is the case both roads will have a start toward establishing bus systems in Pennsylvania.

Embargo On Grapes Has Been Lifted

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—An embargo on grapes, put into effect on all railroads in this district during the wine making season, had been lifted on all lines today as the season neared an end.

Thousands of pounds of grapes, which in other years caused delays in shipments of other perishable foodstuffs because of the volume in which they were shipped to points for the manufacture of wine, were refused by the railroads during the period of the embargo.

Approximately 90 per cent of the grapes shipped into Pennsylvania are used in making wine, officials estimated, and on the ground that grapes therefore cannot be classified as "staple food" products shipment was refused in order to facilitate speed in handling perishable foodstuffs.

Only fancy brands of grapes, whose price makes them exempt from use for wine were handled by the railroads during the season, dealers here said.

LIMESTONE COMPANY, SHAREHOLDERS GET EXTRA $4 DIVIDEND

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 4.—The Bessemer Limestone and Cement company yesterday declared an extra dividend of $4 per share on common stock, in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 1½ per cent. or 5½ per cent for the year, the same as in 1925. Negotiations are being conducted to sell the controlling interest in common stock.

When the CHILDREN cough

GIVE them PERTUSSIN at once. It will soothe the cough quickly, loosen the sticky, germ-laden phlegm that often clogs the air passages. It is absolutely harmless and free from "dope" (such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or other injurious drugs). Children like its taste, and it will not upset the digestion.

For over 20 years PERTUSSIN has been the most widely used remedy for whooping cough. It is good for any cough of any member of the family—and it lessens the severity of baby's croup.

Beware Carbon Monoxide Is Warning Of Doctors

Beware carbon monoxide."

This is the warning the medical fraternity is broadcasting at the present time when the average automobile owner has his garage closed almost airtight.

Carbon monoxide can be compared to a copperhead snake according to Dr. L. W. Grossman in that it strikes without any warning whatever. It is an insidious poison thrown off from a gasoline engine which one cannot detect and which is a quick poison.

The Medical Journal and Record recently printed the following extract concerning the dangers of carbon monixide.

A report of the tests recently made by the U. S. Public Health Service to determine the amount of danger involved from running a gasoline engine in a closed space states that a small 23 horsepower engine discharges one and a half cubic feet of carbon monoxide in a minute or enough to poison the air of a closed garage ten by twenty feet in size to the danger point in about three minutes.

"Every automobile owner should have some opening in his garage while he is in there with the engine running" said Dr. Grossman. "Carbon monoxide strickes so quickly, so unexpectedly and so deadly that one may be stricken down before he can call for help."

If you have a garage, watch yourself when you are working in it Carbon monoxide poison in a mild form causes a violent headache, nausea and other annoyances. In a worse form it causes a terrible poisoning of the system and too often death.

Hall-Mills Case Over, Many Bills Face Taxpayers

Estimate Between $75,000 And $125,000 Expended On Famous Trial

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Dec. 6.—Now that the world famous Hall-Mills murder trial is all over, somebody has to pay the bills of the long drawn out prosecution, but the taxpayers of Somerset county are not anxious to assume the responsibility.

The question of settling the bills, estimated to total from $75,000 to $125,000, will be discussed tomorrow at a special meeting of the board of chosen freeholders, and it has been reported that a committee of taxpayers will be on hand to oppose payment.

Meantime in New Brunswick two of the four former defendants were giving their views on the case.

"After what has happened to me I cannot be so proud of being an American citizen as I once was," said Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall. Mrs. Hall expects to remain at her home in New Brunswick with her brother, Willie Stevens, another of the defendants.

Henry Carpender, New York stock broker, who was indicted for the killing of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, announced that he would leave today with his wife for a plantation 30 miles south of Charleston, S. C. on a duck shooting expedition. Commenting on the case he said:

"Simpson (Alexander Simpson, the special prosecutor) was handed a lemon—and he squeezed it."

Manchurian War Lord Planning His Own Cabinet

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Marsal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian war lord, will shortly form a cabinet of his own choosing, according to Daily Mail despatch today from Peking.

It is reported that Chang is making preparations for his permanent residence in Peking, and it is rumored that he later will assume dictatorship over the Chinese government.

Other despatches report that Chang Tso-Lin is preparing to take to the field against the Cantonese troops.

Fighting of the severest nature is expected shortly in the Aegtse area.

Rev. Maitland Gives Excellent Address At Ministers Meeting

Weekly meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association conducted this morning in the Y. M. C. A. was featured by an unusually large attendance and a program of interest.

Rev. Harry Maitland of Winfield, Kansas who is assisting Rev. J. N. Croxall in special evangelistic services in the Mahoning M. E. church gave an excellent address on "The Prayer Life of Jesus."

The ministers voted to urge their congregations to fill out quesionaires on the present state of religion in America. The survey is being conducted by Rev. Charles Stelzle of New York City.

Dr. John McNaughter, president of Pittsburgh United Presbyterian seminary will deliver the address before the ministers next Monday morning. The subject of his address will be, "The Virgin Birth of Jesus." The meeting will be held in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson and West Falls streets at 11 a. m. instead of in the Y. M. C. A.

Col. Stackpole Discusses Plan To Remove Troop

Declares New Castle Is Too Far From Other Troops In Squadron

Recent developments in the proposal to remove Troop A, 104th U. S Cavalry from New Castle to Clearfield, Pa., lead to the belief that the removal is not being urged by Col. E. J. Stackpole, Jr., commanding officer of the regiment so much for reasons of efficiency, as it is that Col. Stackpole believes New Castle is too far from Harrisburg.

Since his appointment as colonel, Mr. Stackpole has gradually centralized the regiment until today the most of it is in Harrisburg, Pa., a city of some 80,000. Regimental headquarters are there, the headquarters troop, service troop, second squadron headquarters are there, and with the recent retirement of Major Edgar B. McKinney of Tyrone, Pa., a Harrisburg man has been appointed major and first squadron headquarters will be there. The band is located at Carlisle, Pa., just a few miles from Harrisburg.

The idea of the national guard is not to segregate a regiment in any city, save in such cases as the 107th Field Artillery, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, and even this regiment has units outside of the city.

In a letter to the commissioner of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce Col. Stackpole intimates that Troop A has not been efficient. This argument may have some merit and yet those who are in a position to know can refute much of this.

For three years at Mt. Gretna, Pa., the kitchen of Troop A, was the boast of the regiment, so much so that Major General Price had a picture of the kitchen taken and said that it would be used as a model for the kitchens of the regiment.

In 1922, Troop A was the first unit of the regiment into the field when the order came from Governor William C. Sproul, ordering the 104th regiment into the coal fields, and at the finish of the tour of duty the record of Troop A was considered to be the best of any unit.

New Castle has had a unit of cavalry here since 1904. To remove it now, because New Castle is so far away from Harrisburg, would be to admit that Col. Stackpole cannot administer the affairs of his regiment in the way Col. John P. Wood did when he commanded the First Cavalry Regiment.

ELKS CONDUCT ANNUAL MEMORIAL

orchestra, ritual by lodge officers, the singing of "Abide With Me" by a quartet consiting of L. W. Kisthart, Will D. Williams, William Whieldon and R. E. Johns and a solo "Elegre" from Handel by William Whieldon, the accompanist was Edwin Lewis. Rev. Williamson delivered the principal address on "What Makes Life Worth Living." He said in part:

"As we come together this afternoon to pay respect to the memory of those who have passed beyond, you men who knew them best, grade them in your mind.

"You say: 'He was a good man.' Have you ever analyzed that? What made him a good man?" and answering the question, Rev. Williamson declared: "We say only when he fulfills the purpose of a good man."

He described the three relations which went to make a good man.

He told of the purpose of David as a shepherd lad defending and keeping watch over a flock of sheep. He told of David watching the sky, the tapestry woven by God and of the spirit that has since always existed in man.

He told of the three periods of life, birth, death and in between "Why he is living." He said that it might be well for each of those gathered to ask that question. "Why am I here" which brought out the answer that each was living to serve a purpose and that the scaffolding on which we stand are endowments, some people having more than others.

"In order to fulfill the duties to ourself we must have a purpose" and he likened man's travel through the world without thought of the tomorrow "as the man who has lost his ticket and does not know where he is going.'

"Man owes self respect to himself" pointing out that in the halls of a place in Saratoga there are four niches, one of which is vacant. The told the reason why it is vacant and remarked that lack of self respect and greed of gold and a flame of jealousy caused Benedict Arnold to betray his country and himself. "He sold his soul for gold. We cannot afford to live with ourselves without honor."

"The second thing a man needs is courage to do the things we feel that rest upon us." He told of the Maccabees drive against the Syrians and the battle won. They had the courage and as a result accomplished a great Hebrew victory.

He told of man's relationshop to his brother and of the "shot that traveled around the world" and which set the armies in motion during the recent World War. He described how the shot affected commodities of life and everything else in all distant points which developed his statement of how lives are interwoven.

"It would be a terrible world if we owed nothing to anyone nor had any relationship with anyone else.

"As we place our hands on each other it develops a wonderful influence. The spirit courses through the life of each other," he said.

Obligation is another essential in man, the minister said, declaring that the first trial for heresy occurred when Cain asked: "Am I my brother's keeper," and God said: "You are."

He described how early and present mission work is carried on because of love for our fellow man and that character means the carving in a dye, and in the same way "we owe an obligation to bring out our character for the benefit of others."

"Then there is confidence, a vital essential in man," he said: "It doesn't matter how low any fellow may be, it is our duty to bring him up. There should be no snobbishness. If it is practiced it will only come back to you," he warned. He said "we miss the sweetness of things because we don't know how to get at it. He said that each act should be sweetened in some way to obtain this end" and declared that "the greater we learn to cooperate the more will be our power in the community."

"In our relationship to others we owe loyalty to others. Our relationship depends upon absolute truth. If I tell you other than the truth I am undermining society and it must fall." Kindness and sympathy are two other qualifications necessary he declared, pointing to the life of Helen Keller whose life was developed by the two qualities.

"Another thing in the relationship of man is friendship, which is double-edged and not of the variety which says: "What is going to do for me but what am I going to do for him." He should worship his mother. To the mothers he paid a wonderful eulogy. In summing up declared that he owed relationship to himself, his fellowmen and to his God.

"Religion is betting your life that God is good and will win out over the Devil. I am putting my life on the side of God." He explained that when a person leaves this sphere, his life has not been in vain and that he or she is not blotted out.

"As we honor the dead today I think it worthwhile to study what makes life worth living," he declared.

Rev. Williamson's address follows:

Selection, "Astarte" from Mildenberg by the orchestra.

Solo,"Oh, Dry Those Tears," from Del Reigo, by R. E. Johns.

Closing ceremonies by officers of the lodge, singing by the audience of the National Anthem and the benediction by Rev. C. J. Williamson, followed by the march "Emblem of Peace," George Reeg, Jr., by the orchestra.

The departed members who failed to answer to their names as they were called at the start of the Memorial exercises were: Harry McKibben, J. O. Huston, William H. Klechner, Jr., E. H. Ashton, S. E. Crawford, Charles H. Gates, Thomas V. Plant, Thomas G. Vaughn, William A. Richards, B. A. Winternitz and George A. Rigby.

The formation and ground work of the Elks is "Do unto others as we would that they should unto us," and the motto: "The faults of our brothers we write upon the sand; their virtues upon the tablets of love and memory."

The committee in charge of the memorial exercises yesterday consisted of: Wilbert J. Chapman, Karl Kuechler, Ralph Campbell, W. C. DeArment, J. Garfield Davis and Edward H. Fritz.

Agatha Clarissa Christie Famous Woman Novelist Strangely Missing

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Six hours of constant searching of the woods, ponds and rivers of the Surrey countryside today failed to develop any trace of Agatha Clarissa Christie, popular British novelist, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances yesterday morning. She has been suffering from a nervous breakdown due to overwork.

Mrs. Christie is the daughter of the late Frederick Miller of New York. Her husband is Colonel Archibald Christie, C. M. G., D. S. O.

Her automobile was found abandoned in a chalk pit at Guildford, Surrey, on Sunday.

HOPE TO BREAK DOWN TESTIMONY OF J. K. ROBISON

"Key Witness" In Famous Oil Lease Scandal Will Resume Stand Today

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Counsel for the government will attempt to break down the testimony of Admiral J. K. Robison, one of the "key" witnesses in the oil conspiracy trial.

Robison has testified in behalf of former Secretary of the Interior Fall and E. L. Doheny, millionaire oil magnate, that the two defendants did not "conspire to accord Doheny invaluable oil leases in the California naval reserves.

The main point that Roberts will attack is the guarded statement of the retired navy officer that Doheny was inspired to contract for the construction of a large oil storage plant at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, only after he had been informed, in December, 1921, of a confidential navy report that Japan was mobilizing secretly to attack the Pacific coast of the United States, first concentrating on Hawaii and the Philippines.

Roberts will seek to offset this argument in behalf of the defense by proving that the time Doheny was alleged to have received this information, the major powers of the world, including the United States and Japan, were sitting in Washington to discuss naval disarmament, and that before the Pearl Harbor project was under way a disarmament agreement had been put into effect.

Cross-examination of Admiral Robison is expected to consume most of the morning session.

Doheny is appearing daily in court only because his presence is absolutely demanded. He has an infection in his left arm which necessitated opening over the weekend. His doctor has announced that were it not for the trial he would order the millionaire to bed.

Man Is Killed, Three Injured As Car Skids

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 6. Three companions were injured. Police said the car was being driven at an excessive speed when the crash occurred.

Ohio Salesman Suicide Victim

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 6.—Because he "had nothing to live for", J. D. Griffith, 35, a Cincinnati salesman, committed suicide in a hotel at Meyersdale, near here, by drinking poison, according to a report to the coroner's office here today.

Asked by a physician why he drank the poison, Griffith is said to have replied he had nothing to live for and wanted to die. An hour later he was dead.

A message from Griffith's employer stated that he was divorced a year ago and had worried much over the separation.

With knaves and reformers in politics, it's usually a contest between slush and mush.

STATE FORESTS ARE PARADISE FOR HUNTERS

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—That the state forests of Pennsylvania continue to be a paradise for hunters is shown by the reports coming into the state capital from all parts of the state. Upon the state-owned land hunters are finding a good supply of deer, bear and other game. Last yar 5,091 deer and 185 bear were shot on the state forests. This figures out that 60 per cent of the deer and 40 per cent of the bear shot in the whole state of Pennsylvania were killed on the 1,132,000 acres of state-owned forest land. The only part of the state forests not open to hunting are the game refuges. These areas are devoted entirely to the propagation of game. All the rest of the land is wide open for legal hunting.

Last year 185,000 hunters used the state forests and more than half of them lived in buildings erected on camp sites leased from the Department of Forests and Waters. There are now 1,631 permanent camp sites on the state forests, most of which are used by hunters and fishermen. These camp sites are leased at an average rental of $10 per year. This plan enables hunters to live right out in the woods where the game is plentiful.

In recent years many permanent improvements have been placed on the state forests that will be helpful to hunters. Among these improvements are 4,000 miles of forest roads and trails and an 800-mile telephone system. These conveniences and the rapidly increasing supply of game are making hunting on the state forests of Pennsylvania a real delightful outdoor sport.

TO CLEAN UP CORRY IS AIR OF MAYOR

CORRY, Pa., Dec. 6.—Mayor Bracken has asked for and received the resignation of Chief of Police George W. Dunkle to take effect January 1. It is understood the entire police force will be dismissed that date.

Chief Dunkle came here several years ago from Franklin and was held over a year by the new mayor who demanded law enforcement. Owing to alleged police laxity Corry is said to be wider open than other towns of its size. With a new ordinance, more severe penalties and new police Mayor Bracken believes he can clean up the town.

AERIAL LADDER TRUCK IN TWO SLIGHT MISHAPS

There seemed to be a regular hoodoo following the aerial truck from the Central fire station on Saturday on answering an alarm from box 83.

Enroute to the fire which was on Howard Way, a Ford truck turned into Mill street from East Long avenue, just as the aerial truck reached that point, and ran into it. In pulling away from the Ford truck, the crank of the aerial truck was pulled off.

On returning to the station house, the aerial truck reached East street at North street. An Overland sedan bearing Pennsylvania license 253-326 was parked in front of Dr. Perry's office on East North street. A Ford car on East street was signalled to go up East street but instead turned west on North street and the end of the long ladder of the truck hit the top of the Ford, doing some damage to it.

CRIMINAL SLEUTH IS MURDERED IN BED

OKLAMOMA CITY, Okla., Dec 6—Luther Bishop "ace" of the state bureau of criminal investigation and identification was shot to death by an unknown assassin while he lay asleep in his home early Sunday.

Bishop was instrumental in assembling evidence upon which W. K. Hale and John Ramsey were convicted in federal court here a short time ago for the murder of Henry Roan, Osage Indian.

Authorities said his assailant escaped over a low bungalow roof to the ground and sped away in a motor car.

Lawrence County Secures 200,000 Additional Seals

Many Counties Of State Exceed Original Estimate In Sales Of Seals

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 6. — More than 7,000,000 additional Christmas Seals have been secured from State Seal Headquarters here by committees affiliated with the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society. This announcement was made by Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, Christmas Seal Chairman for Pennsylvania, today in reporting the demand for the bright health stickers greater than ever.

"It is most encouraging to those engaged in the battle against the White Plague," said Colonel Shoemaker, "that people generally recognize there is still much to be done before this devastating disease is conquered. The Christmas Seal has an important place in this effort. Every person buying and using Christmas Seals is providing health insurance for himself, his family and the community."

Christmas Seals secured by county and district committees to meet the big demands, in addition to original orders, follow:

Report Deer Most Plentiful In State

According to a report received from Harrisburg, the sportsmen around here do not know what hunting is, when it comes to big game. This report was to the effect that toll-takers on the Susquehanna river bridge at this place had counted, on the first day of the deer season, seventy-one deer being taken home by successful hunters.

The first deer arrived at the river three hours after daylight on the opening day. In the South Mountain region, between Gettysburg and Chambersburg, deer are so tame that eleven months a year they browse around like cows. Robert S. Miller, postmaster of Gettysburg and owner of a golf course at Graeffenburg, has had a ten-foot wire fence built around his course, to protect it from the deer.

Shift Plans In Heart Balm Case In Pittsburgh

Crowds Continue To Jam Courtroom To Hear Sensational Evidence

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Indications that Norman Bel Geddes, motion picture director and scenic designer, would not reach Pittsburgh in time to take the stand today in the $500,000 heart balm suit of Miss Anne Caldwell, 32, New York actress against John W. Hubbard, millionaire clubman, caused a last minute shift in plans of the plaintiff's counsel here today.

Bel Geddes, who is technically to be a witness for the plaintiff, was expected by Rody P. Marshall, counsel for the defense, to substantiate Hubbard's case that Miss Caldwell was indiscreet during her stay in a California movie colony at the time she claims she was engaged to the millionaire clubman.

With the absence of Bel Geddes, Earl Reed, Miss Caldwell's attorney, indicated that crowds such as jammed the federal courtroom during the first week of the trial might again be thrilled with sensational testimony similar to the scores of ardent love letters from Hubbard to Miss Caldwell which have been read into the records.

Miss Caldwell asks heart balm on the grounds that Hubbard became intimate with her under promise of marriage.

Search New York Pawnshops For Valuable Gems

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Detectives searched the city's pawnshops today for a $40,000 rope of pearls belonging to Mrs. Charles M. Rice, wife of a wealthy St. Louis merchant.

Mrs. Rice suffered a nervous prostration when she discovered the loss of the pearls on November 27, it was learned. Before returning to St. Louis she told the police she was not sure whether the gems were stolen from her room at the hotel where she was stopping here, or whether she lost them while shopping.

Mrs. Rice has posted a reward of $2,000 for the recovery of the pearls. The rope consisted of 254 graduated pearls.

Even the healthiest men sometimes have aches

TORMENTED BY ACUTE NEURITIS

Crippling aches quickly relieved by simple home remedy

Freed from the crippling pain of neuritis after having tried various treatments without getting relief, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"Following influenza I was seized with a violent attack of neuritis in the right arm and shoulder. I got no relief until I tried Sloan's Liniment. The affected arm and shoulder were shortly restored to a healthy condition and all pain and symptoms disappeared."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause.

Just pat it on gently. At once you feel the increased flow of healing, germ-destroying blood right in the spot that hurts. Quickly and surely, it reduces swelling and inflammation, drives out stiffness, kills pain. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.

Grand Opera Star Attempts Suicide In Boston Hotel

Lydia Lindgren, Famous "Swedish Nightingale" Saved By Medical Treatment

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Lydia Lindgren, grand opera star, known as the "Swedish Nightingale," whose two great fears have been death and darkness, swallowed a dose of poison in her suit at the fashionable Copely Plaza Hotel early today.

Then, gathering her baggage and personal papers together, she telephoned for a taxicab.

Emergency treatment administered at City hospital by Dr. Robert Coleman, probably saved the life of the famous song bird.

No reason was given for her taking the poison.

Paul Quirze, operatic tenor, husband of the thirty-seven year old "nightingale" was notified of his wife's plight. He was found at Hotel St. Andrew, New York.

Is Your Child Thin and Weak?

Right Way To Put On Good Flesh And Make Them Grow Up Strong And Vigorous.

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy, there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's vile, horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien, of Mahwah, N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin or puny, give them these tablets, as directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Be sure—always—to insist on the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets 60 cents at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Love & Megown, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or any druggist. Thousands of boxes sold daily.

Expect Many Auto Drivers Will Fail To Get Licenses

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 6—"Of the million and a half owners of passenger motor cars and trucks in Pennsylvania, only about 9,000 remember each day that on January 1 they must display a 1927 license plate," W. H. Connell, acting secretary of highways, said today.

"I surmise that only this small number remember, because that is the average number of 1927 applications being received daily by the bureau of motor vehicles. When the first of the year comes, therefore, approximately one million car owners will find themselves unable legally to operate.

"It seems odd to me," continued Connell, "that the latter part of November and the fore part of December, year in and year out, the highway department must issue the same reminder. Year after year the department urges car owners to take the step in time and save nine. Year after year it cautions operators that the time is short for their old tags, and year after year car owners delay until the last minute.

"To date only about 300,000 cars have been registered for 1927. If all vehicles in the state are to be licensed by the first of the year the bureau must receive 50,000 applications daily.

"The department has made the proposition of applying for licenses as easy as possible. There will be no extension of time for the use of the 1926 tags as the bureau is able to handle all the applications it receives until the first of the year. After that time every effort will be made to enforce the law requiring the display of 1927 tags."

League Council In Session Today

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Dec. 6.—The session of the League of Nations council opened at eleven o'clock today with the foreign ministers of seven countries present. M. Vandervelde, Belgian foreign minister, presided.

During the preliminary private session for drawing up the agenda for the session Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany gave no indication that he would object to the league's precedure for controlling German armaments, which had been decided upon by the council at its 1924 session.

Fall-Sinclair Face Trial By Court Ruling

Another Conspiracy Trial Looms With Supreme Court Ruling

ALLEGE CONGRESS INVADED POWERS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Another conspiracy trial, growing out of the "oil scandals" was assured today when the supreme court held that Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair must stand trial on the indictment growing out of Fall's lease of Teapot Dome to Sinclair.

Fall is now on trial for conspiracy in connection with the lease of Elk Hills Reserve to Edward L. Doheny.

Today's decision means that as soon as the present trial is ended, Fall in all probability will be brought to trial again with Sinclair. The decision upheld the lower courts, which also had sustained the validity of the indictment against the ex-cabinet officer and Sinclair.

Fall and Sinclair charged the District of Columbia Federal Courts erred in holding the Walsh Act of July 3, 1926, was constitutional. This act prohibited the appeal to the District of Columbia Court of appeals from any interlocutory order in a criminal action.

The act, passed after Fall and Sinclair were indicted, caused dismissal of Fall and Sinclair's special appeal. The effect of this was to hold the indictment good.

Fall and Sinclair alleged that congress had invaded the powers of the judiciary by passing the Walsh Act.

Hubbard Takes Witness Stand

Aged Millionaire "Shovel King" Takes Stand To Defend Self

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—John W. Hubbard, millionaire defendant in a $500,000 breach of promise suit filed by Anne Caldwell, New York actress, made his first appearance on the witness stand in Federal court here today.

Pictured by the actress' counsel as the betrayer of Miss Caldwell, the middle aged defendant was called to the stand by Attorney Earl Reed, chief counsel for the girl, as the hearing entered its second week.

Reed questioned Hubbard about his connections with a local shovel manufacturing company which bears his name, endeavoring to establish before the jury the wealth of the defendant.

Hubbard said the John W. Hubbard company, of Pittsburgh, in which he owns 90 per cent of the stock, was valued at $4,000,000. He recently sold his interest in the Standard Engineering company here for $1,500,00, he said. He originally purchased the interest for $400,000.

Reed then read a list of Pittsburgh manufacturing concerns, to which Hubbard testified that he was president of ten, a director in two, and vice president of another.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE REPORTED

Number Of Mishaps On Streets Are Reported Over The Week-End

A. D. Bright reported Saturday to the police that as he was driving his machine at the corner of Cherry and North Liberty streets, that Mrs. J. A. Reeves of South Cedar street, got off a bus and stepped in front of his machine. She was knocked down. He had her taken to the office of a physician, where it was found that her injuries were apparently not of a serious character.

Melvin Houk of North Beaver township, reported Saturday that while driving on North Cedar street, that his machine struck and damaged a car bearing Pennsylvania license 288-045, which was parked on North Cedar street, near the Box Factory.

J. W. Unangst of 412 West Madison avenue, reported Saturday that while driving west on Washington street at Beaver street, that a man, the name of whom he did not secure, ran out in front of his machine and was knocked down. The man got up and ran away and was apparently not hurt.

Andrew McCoy of 1126 South Mill street, reported Saturday that while going west on East Washington street at Court street, that a car bearing Pennsylvania license 946-256 going north on South County Line street, hit and damaged his machine.

J. D. James of 1503 Huron avenue, reported Saturday that while driving south on Mill street at the Gulf Refining Company service station, that a man driving into the station with a car bearing Pennsylvania license 248-006 ran into and damaged his machine.

Estimates Of Financial Needs To State Sent To Fisher

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Governor Gifford Pinchot today forwarded to Governor-elect John S. Fisher in Indiana, Pa., estimaes of the financial needs for the state government for the next biennium as contained in budget sheets.

Refusing to say what the expected revenue for the next two years will be, or what the budget total is, the governor declared that the departmental estimates of their needs are but one-fourth in excess of the expected revenues as compared with the estimates made to his incoming administration four years ago. The budget sheets, Pinchot said, include the amounts asked by the heads of departments and other state agencies, but there is no recommendation of amounts to be appropriated by the legislature. Recommendations for legislative appropriations will be made by Fisher. The sheets containing the appropriations made by the legislature for the last and the present biennium which will end next May 31.

State Highways Are All Kept Open

Force Of Workmen Remove Snow —Street Cars And Buses Kept In Operation

Although several inches of sleet as heavy as sand or rock salt, commenced falling late Saturday night, officials of the state highway department and P.-O. Railway company report at noon today that all rail, bus and vehicular lanes are open for traffic.

As soon as the sleet commenced falling the street car officials put the snow sweeper in action.

It was operated throughout Saturday and Sunday and part of this morning and cars and busess are operating normally.

State highway attaches placed employes at work and as a result all highways are open.

"There was approximately a layer of two inches of sleet on the highways" said an atache today.

"However thre is no blockade and automobiles are getting through easily, poviding they have chains.

"Automodbilists should be careful in operating motor cars as the sleet is slippery and wheels are apt to skid without chains."

Employes of the city street department were kept busy today removing snow and sleet from the business center streets.

Yale Students Take Dramatics

Future Playwrights And Producers Will Likely Emerge From Yale College

GEORGE BAKER IS DEPARTMENT HEAD

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 4.—George Pierce Baker is likely to become known as the theatrical miracle man one of these days, now that the new Yale theatre is in operation, and little leaks indicate the things going on under Professor Baker's guidance behind the outwardly grim walls of the million dollar Harkness theatre at Yale. Some 150 students have been laboring in the new theatre since the college year began late in September, and from among these students some day will come the famous producers and playwrights of the nation.

When the applicant for instruction in Yale's department of the drama has accepted he is started through a course that should lead to heights hitherto unknown in the great world of the stage. The student works all the time under adequate supervision. He must do everything from stage carpentry to directing a finished production, including of course the high point of writing his play. Designing costumes and then making them are a portion of his duties. He makes tables, chairs. He sets scenery that he has designed and then made and painted. In fact the drama student at Yale becomes the Jack-of-all-trades is good at none. The Yale drama student is good at all.

The new Yale theatre, gift of Edward S. Harkness, of New York City, is to be opened with a series of performances on December 10, 11 and 13. Five thousand people will be invited to attend these performances, five in number. Yale University has announced the occasion thus:

"This will be the first time in the history of the drama that in a University a building specially built for a department of the drama has been opened with a play written and produced by students in the work, this including producing, scenic and costume designing and lighting."

There are somethings to be shown the public on those nights which will indicate the high point Professor Baker has reached—a point perhaps far beyond that he attained at Harvard where he had the famous 47 Workshop. The absolute control of all scenery from a switchboard is looked upon as something unusual. The theatre has been built without a fly loft. The lighting system is a thing unusual, the lights becoming more absolutely than ever the servants of a single guiding person. There seems to be wizardry in it all.

Once upon a time the producer put signs on the stage to indicate what he had in mind. "This is a forest" or "This is the sea" ran the legend and the audience adjusted its mind to comprehend the thing. In this new Harkness-Yale theatre the audience's minds are adjusted by other influences altogether.

Why does a youth desire to go to college? Chiefly for cultural reasons, according to students in Yale University's three undergraduate departments. As for selecting Yale as their alma mater more students did that for family reasons than any other though a fairly substantial number came because of social interests. Such are some of the facts brought out in a survey conducted by Yale authorities, recently announced.

"Among the influences grouped under the general heading 'Cultural Interests'," says the Yale survey, "is 'Prestige of a Yale degree' which may have a social as well as a cultural significance, and which was considered to be the most influential single determinent for both school and college associates."

The survey in detail showed that among reasons for wishing a University education in general 30 per cent of Yale Undergraduates were influenced by desire for vocational training, 57 percent by cultural interests, 6 percent by social interests and 6 by family interests. Cultural interests guided 54 percent in their activities in Yale, vocational training 24 percent, social interests 16 percent, social interests 16 percent, family influence 2 percent, while extra-curriculum interests—presumably athletics, guided 5 percent.

Greek Church Is Damaged By Fire

Firemen Answer Two Calls Saturday Afternoon And Evening Because Of Blazes

Firemen were called to St. George's Greek Catholic church, 1210 Howard Way, Saturday afternoon by an alarm from box 83. Fire the cause of which has not been definitely determined was found in the front part of the church near the altar and back of a partition.

The firemen did good work and had the blaze under control in a short time. The loss to the property is estimated at $200 and to the contents about $100.

A still alarm about 9:40 o'clock Saturday evening called the chief and an assistant to the rear of 805 Lutton street where they found a fire which some boys had started earlier in the day and had forgotten to put out. The wind was high and the sparks were being blown about in such a manner as to endanger surrounding properties. The firemen were called to eliminate any posibility of a real fire.

Foreign War Vets To Nominate Officers

Will Also Complete Plans For Big Meeting To Be Held On December 16

The meeting of Corporal Harry L. McBride Post, No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, scheduled for this evening in the Legion Home, is of more than ordinary importance.

The first matter of importance that will be considered is the nomination of officers to be elected for the ensuing year.

There will also be plans made at this time for a big meeting with initiation of new members, which it is planned to hold on the night of December 16.

A crack degree team from out of town is to be secured for the event and it is also planned to have some of the national officers of the organization present for the occasion.

"Wet sentiment" isn't so much a desire for a drink as a desire to feel young and foolish again.

Secretary Davis Upholds Moose

Labor Secretary Defends Moose Order In Pittsburgh Address

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 6.—James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, today stood staunch in his defense of the Loyal Order of Moose against condemnation of the order because certain of its lodges had been raided by prohibition agents.

Davis pointed out during a speech at the dedication of a $100,000 Moose building at Coraopolis, a suburb, that the order as a whole was solidly behind law enforcement.

Davis traced the progress and development of the church as a parallel to the Moose lodges, pointing out that although individual ministers were guilty of crimes, the church as a whole was not held to blame.

The Labor Secretary pledged the use of the Coraopolis building for patriotic purposes in his address, which was followed by those of several other national officers of the organization.

Howling Tom Cats To Meet Tonight

Monday evening, Dec. 6, Angora Society, No. 1, of the Howling Tom Cats of America, will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting and have an oyster supper. We have been advised that a number of the Cats have been prowling around the alleys of New Castle and have secured a number of stray Kittens, (some thin and scrawny, some fat ones, some young ones and some old ones) to be initiated into the mysteries of Catdom.

Every Tom Cat in New Castle has been sent the secret meow and ordered to appear in person in their alley in the Knights of Malta hall, and a large gathering of the Felines is expected to attend the ceremony of the feast of the Cats.

A wonderful time is anticipated and any Tom Cat that misses the feast of the Cats will regret it all during his nine lives.

Two Minute Hair Dress

By Edna Wallace Hopper

That curl in my hair, that fluff and that glow are due to no expert's attention. I have no time for a hairdresser, and never have a Marcel wave.

Twice a week I apply a hair dress which great experts made especially for me. I have never found anything else to compare. My hair is always curly, always glowing.

Now I am placing this great hair dress at every woman's call. All toilet counters supply it as Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. My guarantee comes with each bottle. Unless it delights you, unless it doubles the beauty of your hair in an hour, ask for your money back. Go get it now. It will be a find.

Serenade Couple Saturday Night

Prominent Osteopath And Her New Husband Receive Shower And Ride

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Dec. 6.—Mrs. David McKinley, nee, Dr. Anna Bradley, and her husband received a delightful surprise Saturday night when a crowd of friends appeared at their home on Fourth street and requested them to take a free ride on an antique express wagon, resurrected especially in their honor.

The serenaders met at the home of Mrs. W. D. Porter and descended upon the unsuspecting couple in a body. The pair were placed on the seat of the wagon by their "loving" friends, while the driver perched on top, and were driven through the principal streets of the city, to the amusement of the bystanders.

home a program had been arranged

When they were finally driven by A. J. Howell, toastmaster, and he opened the evening's activities with a lovely gift from the group to the bride and groom. Many other gifts, useful and otherwise, were showered on them at this time. Mrs. W. D. Porter sang "Those Married Days", accompanied by Mrs. Esther Griffith on the piano; Mrs. Clarence Yahn gave a humorous reading, Mrs. Alice Brown and A. D. Henderson feelingly, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie". Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Howell sang a duet entitled "In the Sweet Long Ago"; a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yahn, solo by Miss Sara Belle Howell, piano duet by Mrs. Esther Griffiths and Master Oliver Brown, a short but pointed speech on "Cooking", by Mrs. Fred Henderson, concluding with a few appropriate remarks by Rev. C. G. Huffer of the First Christian church.

The delightful evening closed with the serving of delicious refreshments by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, headed by the Mrs. A. D. Henderson.

Court Of Honor Has Elaborate Program

Boy Scout Event Is Scheduled For Thursday Evening In Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 6.—The scout court of honor which is taking place Thursday night in the Sons of Italy hall is one of the largest affairs planned for scouts in Ellwood City.

Music will be furnished by the senior high school orchestra. The ceremonies will be opened with a prayer by Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church, a presentation of colors by Buglers Jud Leibendorfer and Charles Rabberman.

An act of ceremony entitled "Scaling the Heights" will require special stage settings and will be enacted by local and county officials and depicts the various stages of scout advancements, finally arriving at the coveted honor of "Eagle Scout".

There will follow vocal numbers by the boys' glee club of the senior high school.

The main address will be delivered by Hon. S. P. Emery, president of the county Boy Scout council.

Chairman C. A. Martin is to preside over the meeting and introduce various parts of the program. The impressive ceremony will fittingly conclude with "Taps" by Buglers Leibendorfer and Rabberman.

Special invitations have been extended the civic and fraternal orders of the city, the various women's clubs and all parents and friends of the boys to attend the court of honor.

Battalion Has Party At Armory Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 6—At the conclusion of a special drill held by the Second Battalion Headquarters Co. of the 107th field artillery at the armory Saturday night, a get-together was given for the men and enjoyed thoroughly.

The reason for the special drill was that the next two meeting nights for the company fall on holidays. A special guest of the evening was Sergeant Harrang of the U. S. army, located at Pittsburgh, who reviewed the excellent drill in official capacity.

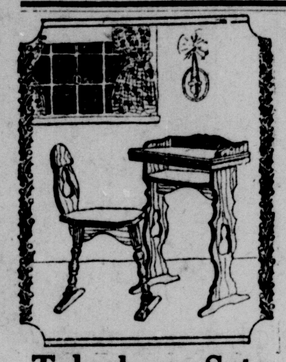

At the get-together the men were entertained by a Rumanian trio of local talent and a quartet of players from the Honey-Moon Special company, which has been playing during the past week at the Liberty theatre. The affair concluded with a well planned lunch by the company chef.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

ALL OVER A BONE

"No sooner had Beauty, the Wild Horse, said to himself that it was a wonderful sight to see the Two-Feet and the Four-Feet feasting together in such a happy friendship than things took a turn for the worse.

"Master threw a bone to Wander, the Dog, and Blackie the Cat, quite forgetting his manners, made a grab for the bone. Wander growled and promptly boxed Blackie's ears. Blackie lost his temper and and spat in Wander's face, and Master's Neighbor's dog and cat joined in the scrap. Whereupon Wander's Master and Wander's Master's Neighbor blamed each other's beasts. In the twinkling of an eye where there had been peace there was war. And in the midst of the quarreling a long, leanaly and hungry hound stole up unnoticed and slunk off with the bone of contention.

"'Eee' whinned Beauty in surprise. 'I spoke too soon, indeed! 'Tis not only Wild Horses, then, that fight and kick and bite. The Two-Legs agree no better, and the Cat and the Dog who live side by side as friends turn enemies at a wink. Ha! In good time have I learned my lesson. Man I shall love, for he is kind. And I shall obey Man since he is just. But worship Man as a god? Never! For Man has his faults even as have I, a beast!'

"This is where Beauty, the Horse, showed himself as a different sort of Four-Legs from Wander the Dog, since Wander neither questioned nor cared if Man had faults but adored him as perfect beyond all other living creatures."

Peter had lost all track of the hours. He only knew that a long time had passed since Pat, the Irish terrier, first met him on the road and chose him for his master. Peter knew, too, that never in all his life had he listened to anything that interested so much as Pat's telling of the story told by Pat's mother to Pat when he was a little pup.

As for poor Pat, at last he needs must pause for breath, and as his throat was dry from the telling of the tale, he ran to a nearby pool to get a drink of cool water. Peter, his chin in his hand, sat gazing into space, thinking, dreaming, wishing.

"Those must have been the happy days," murmured he. "Gee-willikens, I wish I might have lived in the Long Long Ago!"

Just then Pat came trotting back and overheard him.

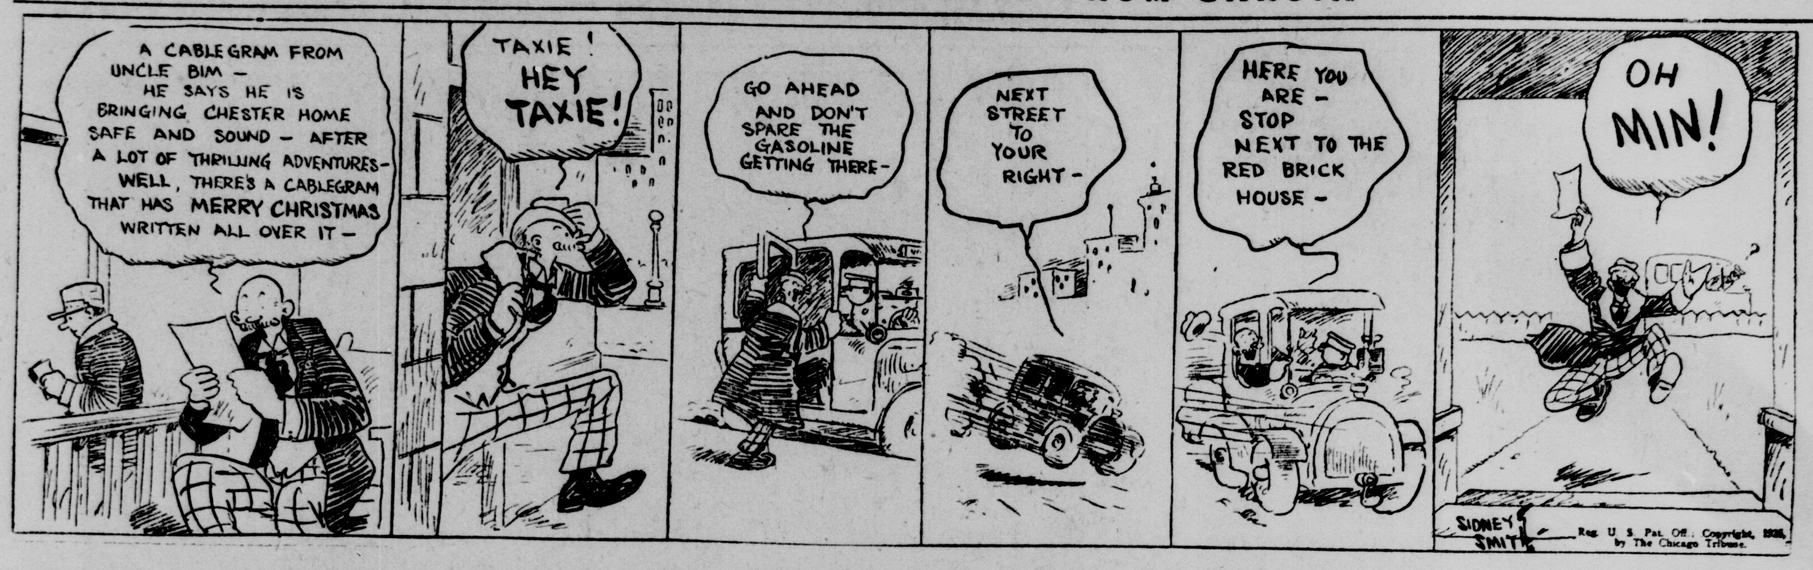

"Mother used to say one could have 'most anything one wanted if one only wished for it hard and long enough!" barked he.

Then—well, no one, least of all Peter himself—could ever have expected what happened next:

HIGH BASKETBALL TEAM TO OPEN SEASON FRIDAY

Grove City To Be Opponents

Coach Bridenbaugh Plans Intensive Practice Session For This Week

HARTMAN HAS STRONG TEAM

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle high champions of section III of the W. P. I. A. L. last year, will open their 1926-27 floor season on Friday night, December 10, by meeting Grove City high, was the announcement today at the local institution.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh has issued orders for all floor candidates to report immediately and practice sessions were under way today. It is likely that a squad numbering some 25 men will vie for berths this year.

Grove City high, coached by Joe Hartman, former New Castle high and Grove City college luminary, will have a fast quintet this season, is the report that comes from the Mercer county school. Grove City has long been noted for basketball teams and this year's team will be up to the standard of former aggregations.

Lose Six Men.

New Castle high lost six lettermen from the 1925 squad through graduation last June. The men lost to Coach Bridenbaugh this year are Captain Walter Sumner, Ralph Day, Leonard Friedman, Eugene Kirker, Robert Winter and Anthony Monaca. It was the work of this fleet of stars that aided New Castle in winning the first floor championship in the history of the school and their passing leaves a mighty big gap to be filled.

From last year's team will be Robinson, Klaber, Turk, Franklin and Richards. Whether or not Robinson will be available is not definitely established at present. The titian-haired youth will graduate at the half semester this year, which comes in January, and for that reason he may not become a candidate for the quintet. The same applies to Klaber, who will also finish in January. With Robinson and Klaber eliminated from the picture, Franklin, Turk and Richards are the only three veterans remaining.

Promising Candidates.

Of the new men who have reported to Coach Bridenbaugh, Arthur Sillman, former Ben Franklin star, looks the part of varsity timber. Sillman has filled in at guard for the past several years, but it is probable that he will be converted into a forward. Tony Ostrosky, another protege of Coach McCombs at Franklin high, is giving the boys plenty of opposition for a guard post and will more than likely be found in the lineup when the curtain goes up.

Ed Raney, a former class league performer, is one of the most promising forward candidates out this year. Raney is a tall rangy youth and a good worker and if he develops a knack of locating the hoops he may land a varsity job. Jim Blanning, another class league player, is giving the boys a hard fight for the center berth and this youngster with his 6 feet 2 inches will be a hard man to beat out. Neiman, Kulich and Alexander are other men who appear to be in the running for jobs this year.

Five Pre-Season Games.

Following the Grove City game on Friday night the squad will rest until Saturday, December 18, when they will journey to Grove City for a return game with the Hartman coached outfit. Franklin high with a well balanced team will make its appearance at New Castle following the Christmas holidays, this game being scheduled for December 30. The Alumni team, made up of former stars, will oppose the locals on Friday night, December 31, according to indications.

New Castle is a member of section IV of the W. P. I. A. L. this year, which includes such teams as Mars, Evans City, Zelienople, Ellwood City and Butler. The league season is due to open on January 7, with the Evans City team as the attraction.

The following pre-season games will be played by the high school floor team:

December 10—Grove City high at New Castle.

December 18—Grove City high at Grove City.

December 30—Franklin high at New Castle.

December 31—Alumni at New Castle.

January 4—Westminster Reserves (pending) at New Castle.

Completing its second season without being defeated in a dual or triple meet, the Harvard cross-country team has set up an enviable record.

Wampum Indies To Open Floor Season Tuesday

The Wampum Independents will open their floor season on Tuesday night by meeting the strong Struthers S. M. C. quintet. The game will be played on the Opera House floor.

The Indies have been practicing for the past several weeks and have hit a fine stride. The Wampumites will be represented by a strong outfit this season.

The roster of the team will more than likely be Boone and Hennon at the forwards, Blythe at center and Patterson and Ferrucci at the guards.

Hennon after a year under Coach Peck Lee at Ellwoad City has developed into one of the best forwards in this district and will be a tower of strength to the locals. Boone needs no introduction to the fans and rates in the same sphere with Hennon.

Struthers will bring a fast team to Wampum is the report. Included in the Struthers lineup is two players Grinnen and Fisher who rank with the best in Eastern Ohio floor circles.

Select All-Star National Team

Paul Waner And Ray Kremer Of Pittsburgh Are Given Mention

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. — In connection with the naming of Bob O'Farrell, star catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, as the National League's most valuable player for 1926 by a record vote of 79 out of a possible 80 ballots, an all-star National League team was made public today, its members chosen on the basis of the balloting by a committee of baseball writers. The team is made up as follows:

Catcher: O'Farrell, St. Louis; pitchers, Kremer, Pittsburgh, Rhem, St. Louis, and Carlson, Philadelphia; first base, Herman, Brooklyn; second base, Critz, Cincinnati; shortstop, Thevenow, St. Louis; third base, L. Bell, St. Louis; outfield, Wilson, Chicago, Brown, Boston, and Waner, Pittsburgh.

Baseball Moguls Hold Session At Ashville Today

By HARRY NEILY
International News Staff Special Correspondent.

ASHVILLE, N. C., Dec. 6.—Baseball magnates continued to pour into town today to attend the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues which opens here tomorrow.

Prior to the big convention the American Association was in session yesterday, transacting routine business of no public importance. Tentative schedule was drawn up, but no dates announced.

The only real business was the decision at the meeting of the Western League to allow the St. Joseph's club to be transferred to Amarillo, Tex., and the satisfaction of the Oklahoma City and Tulsa clubs which had threatened to withdraw. Dale Gear was re-elected president of the league.

P. & O. Athletic Teams In Action

The basketball and bowling leagues of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric system will get under way this week with six teams of P. and O. employes in each league.

New Castle is represented in both leagues with strong teams. The local five will open the floor season at home on Wednesday night with Sharon as the opponents. The Youngstown office team and the P. and O. coach team will clash the same night in Youngstown. The Youngstown Municipal railway team will open with Warren in Warren on Thursday night.

In the bowling league the New Castle boys will meet Lowellville for the opening match in this city on Tuesday night. At the same time the Sharon and P. and O. coach teams will be fighting it out in Sharon while on Friday night the remaining matches will be in Youngstown between the Municial railways team and the Youngstown office team.

Three matches in each league will be played each week. The home bowling matches in New Castle will be on Tuesday nights and the basketball games on Wednesday nights.

Greenville Team Seeks Floor Games

The Greenville Scholastics a fast independent floor team desires to book games with all strong teams in New Castle or Lawrence County, according to word received here today.

The Scholastics can offer a fast attraction for any team.

For information concerning games write to J. D. Albert, 108 Shenango street, Greenville, Pa.

Bellefonte To Play In Texas

Coach Snavely's Powerful Academy Team Will Invade Texas For Christmas Game

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 6. — The athletic department today confirmed reports that Bellefonte Academy, for three years national prep school football champion, will play Randolph College in Cisco, Tex., on Christmas day in an intersectional contest.

Leaving here on December 17, the team will train for two days at Sherman, Tex., before proceeding to Cisco.

Acquatic Club To Have Meeting

The New Castle Acquatic club will hold their regular monthly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tonight, was the announcement made today by Alec Samuels.

Mr. Samuels stated that all swimmers in the city who wish to join the club may enroll at the meeting tonight. The membership is open. The club will take part in many sectional swimming meets this year.

Public interest in six-day racing shows that while the bicycle may have lost its position as a popular means of transportation and recreation, it certainly has not lost in favor as a popular means of providing entertainment.

Cleveland Indians Seek New Manager

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Having assumed, after due deliberation, that the Cleveland Indians do not intend to start the 1927 season without a manager, the keyhole listeners were moved to a burst of generosity today and furnished E. S. Barnard with no less than five. The nominees-by-acclamation are Billy Evans, the umpire; Jack McAllister, scout; Clarence Rowland, another umpire; Roger Peckinpaugh of the Senators and Eddie Collins, who was swept out of Comiskey's office on a wave of economy.

The Indians, of course, will have the boys out of the trenches long before Christmas. The club can't hold out on the situation much longer, with the annual American league meeting being due next week to the everlasting regret of the fallen arches.

Collins Boom Dies.

Just who will fall heir to Speaker's post seems to be highly speculative matter and, my guess being as good as anyone's, it would venture that Peckinpaugh has better than an outside chance. There was a tip going the rounds today that McAllister was the favored gent, the original boom for Collins apparently having been allowed to die from malnutrition.

One consideration that interfered with the progress of this laudable project was the fact that Collins happens to be the property of the Chicago club. If the Indians really wish to make Collins their manager, they must first take their hats in their hands and see what Mr. Comiskey wants. It may be said for the latter that he seldom wants anything more than a vest for a buttonhole.

Collins would be a popular choice in Cleveland but the talk during recent days has been about McAllister and Evans. The latter also would find much favor with Cleveland fans but they say that this sentiment does not extend to Byron Bancroft Johnson, who is not altogether without influence in this situation.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Scarcely a day passes that fails to bring from the fan world something to break the routine.

Right now I am head over heels in the work of conducting the REAL ALL-AMERICAN FOOTBALL ELEVEN poll, the first effort to obtain the personal opinion of the fans of the country as to which players deserve places on such a mythical team.

And I want to thank John M. Cates (Yale '06) and new coach of Bowdoin College, Maine, for his letter regarding the plan and All-American teams in general. He is very frank. He regards "All-American" selections as "a survival of the days when Walter Camp, by visiting a half dozen colleges, could see all the really good ones in action." And he continues:

"In short, the picking of an 'All-American' today is the 'bunk' and we all know it. The one thing football needs today is de-bunking.

"The idea you are working out serves no purpose that I can see except to foster the great American spirit of 'Hokum.'"

The same mail brings a letter from Frank P. MacLennan, sporting editor of the Topeka State Journal, Topeka, Kan., one of the leading papers of the west. He likes the plan and adds:

"After all there are plenty of competent fans who can judge the ability of men for an All-American team."

Comes the report from Washington that Muddy Ruel, star catcher of the Washington Senators and the man who did the bulk of the work the two years the team won the championship, will not be with the club when the 1927 season opens.

The dope is that he will be shifted to St. Louis in exchange for Wally Schang and another player or two. The Senatorial bosses figure, it is said, that Tate can do the majority of the backstopping with an experienced man like Schang to coach him a bit and relieve him on occasion.

It is also believed that Nernie Neis, former Dodger, and Brave; Roger Peckinpaugh, Joe Harris and one or two others may move on before the training grind at Tampa, Fla., starts—or ends.

With Avon Park, Fla., chosen as the training camp for the Cardinals next spring there looms the possibility of the world's champions and the New York Yankees, who came out second best in the world's series last fall, locking bats and gloves again in the spring.

A barnstorming tour of the two teams on the way north after the training grind is being discussed and probably will be pulled off unless later developments cause the Cardinal's bosses to change their plans.

It has been said that Hornsby is adverse to moving to Florida with his players. Although they encountered bad weather in the west last March .The team won a championship with the start it got there.

HALL of FAME

Nominating E. A. Hannegan of the Navy.

Because he is due to captain next year's eleven for the Middies.

Because he deserves the honor.

Because he plays good football every minute he's in the game—and better football than the majority of players.

Because he plays the game a man's way.

Because he proved this when he played through the annual tilt with the Army before 110,000 with a broken shoulder. Wore a brace to hold it in place.

And because he did not whimper, when critics pointed out that the injury handicapped him in tackling and permitted the Navy to gain ground through him.

Ralph Greenleaf, who again annexed the professional pocket billiard championship, has earned a position in this form of the green-table sport like that occupied by Willie Hoppe in balkline billiards for the long stretch of years prior to Hoppe's defeat by Schaefer. Greenleaf is without a peer. As a shot maker none of the champions of the past has been his superior and few of them have excelled him at safety play. Greenleaf was only twenty-one when he first won the title at Philadelphia in 1921.

DINNER STORIES

"How d'yer like yer new boss, Mame?" asked one stenographer of another on the elevated.

"Oh, he ain't so bad, only he's kind of bigoted."

"What do you mean, bigoted?"

"He seems ter think that words can only be spelled in his way."

"My husband," complained the young wife, "is so puritanical. He doesn't believe in theaters, dancing, bridge or any of the modern forms of amusement."

"Indeed!" said her confidant. Then soothingly: "But remember, my dear, you took him for better or worse."

"I know," was the reply, "and I can't help thinking how much better it would be if he were worse."

Between them the University of Colorado and the Colorado School of Mines have won one-half of the football championships of the Rocky Mountain Conference during the twenty-six years of its existence.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

ALTHOUGH the Akron club, which held a franchise in the O.-P. League last season, has surrendered its franchise, this does not mean that the whole league is going on the rocks. Instead, it is reported that another Akron team is seeking a franchise. A spirit of optimism abounded at the meeting of club owners held at Youngstown. Officers for 1927 will be named at the next meeting. Carm Sacco, business manager of the local team, represented New Castle at the meeting.

THE O. & P. circuit did not set the world on fire last year, but it is believed that the coming season will be a big success.

One of the factors that had considerable to do with the loop was the delay in settling controversies concerning the status of players. The case of Buzzard was allowed to drag almost a whole season. He finally appeared in New Castle. Another thing that hurt was the canceling of games scheduled for New Castle and shooting them to other cities. In some respects this was all right, as rain practically ruined the local grounds for an entire month.

WALK Miller, manager of Tiger Flowers, has sent a formal note to the Illinois athletic commission protesting the decision of Benny Yanger awarding the middleweight championship to Mickey Walker following 10 rounds of fighting Friday night. The board accepted Yanger's decision as honest but poor. On the other hand, Yanger explained that the Tiger flipped, cuffed, chased his thumb in Walker's eye and generally disregarded the referee's instructions. This, Yanger said, added to two knockdowns, influenced his decision.

IF THIS is all true, Yanger would have been justified in having disqualified Flowers. It is possible that while he was actually fighting Tiger had the best of the going, but this does not eliminate the penalty for fouling. The trouble with many referees nowadays, as we hear it, is that a topnotcher, or two topnotchers, can commit murder, relative to fouls, and get away with it. The rules are plain and only dilatory referees permit them to continue to flip, thumb and heel. The best tonic for the game would be for some referee to set down a foul fighter. He might lose the "respect" of that crowd, but the public would in time be compelled to give him credit for his action.

GEORGE McQuillan, manager of the Columbus American Association team, has submitted his resignation to President Joe Carr. The latter has indicated it would be accepted, but has expressed regret that Mac intends to toss up the towel. He is a veteran pitcher, formerly with the Pirates and other major league clubs, and took over the managerial reins of the team after Hank Gowdy was released. Carr is not expected to take definite action until the decision of Owner Tom Wilson concerning the offer of Cincinnati to buy the club for a farm.

NOTRE Dame finished their season Saturday with a 13 to 12 victory over the University of Southern California. According to wire reports it was one of the greatest games Pacific coast fans have seen. Notre Dame captured the tilt when a Trojan tried to block a kick for extra point. He leaped into the air and his hand touched the ball. Instead of preventing the point, the tipping with the hand really helped the ball over the posts.

One of the unusual features of the football season just closed was the number of instances in which teams came from behind to win or at least tie opponents which had seemed good leads in the early periods.

The Stanford University football team has won ten victories without a defeat.

By ED. FRITZ

Mr. and Mrs. Football Fan of New Castle have said it with votes, and today The News presents the All-American first and second teams and a copy of the foregoing has been sent to Norman Brown to be compiled with returns from 499 other cities which voted for an All-American first and second team.

The first team had a wide margin over members of the second team, but several members of the second team got their position by the skin of their teeth. For instance, Rogers of Pennsylvania, candidate for halfback, was given a husky race by Flanagan of Notre Dame, and Karow, fullback, by Amos of Washington & Jefferson.

The writer took charge of all the votes that were sent to The News. Each time a candidate was mentioned for the first team he got two points. Each time he was mentioned for the second team he got one point. All of the candidates' points were added, with the foregoing result.

The list will be known as New Castle's list when it reaches Brown, who will take the returns from 499 other cities and give points in the same way the writer did. By totaling them the players will be assigned to positions they have won, and when the All-American and second teams appear they will be the real All-American and second team—picked by the fans of the nation.

SLEEPS AS THUG BEATS WIFE

NEW YORK—The burglar who ransacked the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fischer the other night wasn't very gentle with Mrs. Fischer when she awakened and saw him piling up clothing and jewelry and generally ransacking the room. He didn't stop to talk but simply hit her over the head with the butt of a revolver. Mrs. Fischer didn't recover for a few minutes and when she did the burglar, the colthes and the jewelry had all disappeared, but her husband was still sleeping peacefully at her side. He knew nothing of the incident until she woke him and told him about it.

INDIANA EDITOR ATTACKED AGAIN

MUNCIE, Ind.—A recent attack on the home of George D. Dale, newspaper publisher, marked the fourth time that unidentified persons have attempted to injure the editor. In the latest attempt, which may result in a Federal investigation, a bullet, fired through a front window of the Dale home, narrowly missed the editor's daughter, Elizabeth. The police express the belief that some persons, incensed over stories appearing in Dale's paper, have made the attacks. Dale was recently arrested on a slander charge and now is in jail protected by the city authority.

AHA! WATSON, THE MYSTERY IS SOLVED.

PHILADELPHIA — The possibility of a first rate murder mystery went to smash here when a resident of this city claimed ownership of an obsolete detective's badge which had been turned over to Lieutenant of Detectives Belshaw, head of the Murder Squad. On its face was the number "7". Investigation disclosed that the local resident treasured the badge as a keepsake but had lost it when he stumbled and fell while running to catch a train. The blood was explained by the fact that the Philadelphian had fallen on his nose.

The Minnesota Country Club of Minneapolis expects to land the 1927 national championship tournament.

Football Team To Banquet December 16

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced today that Thursday night December 16 is the date of the annual New Castle high school football banquet and that the affair would be held in the Senior high school building. The event will be a stag affair.

The banquet will be the annual recognition feed tendered the boys for their work on the gridiron this fall. The committee in charge of the banquet has been named as follows: Chairman Frank L. Orth, Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh and Merritt Hoag who acted in the capacity of student manager during the year just closed.

Industrial Floor Managers To Meet

Walter E. Kirker physical director of the Y. M. C. A. announced today that an important meeting of the Industrial League floor managers would be held in the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tonight.

It is important that all managers who hope to have teams in the new league be present. Election of commissioners and arranging of a suitable schedule for the coming year will also be taken up at this time.

The managers will be required to make announcemeht of the ten players they will use this year.

Imperials Plan For Fast Team

The Jewish Imperials plan to reorganize their floor team for the sixth consecutive year. The team this year will be known as the Gerson Imperials.

New Uniforms of blue and white will be purchased for the team this year. The Imperials will be the representatives of the Jewish synagogue in the New Castle Church league.

The team will have a few new faces in the lineup this season and they hope to establish a good floor record.

The High School football team at Nashua, N. H., made a record this season, but one scarcely to be envied. The total scores for the season: stood Opponents 171 points, Nashua 0.

Conti Murder Case Before Grand Jury

List Of Cases Being Taken Up At Court By County Grand Jury

Consideration of cases prepared by District Attorney J. Elder Bryan for the grand jury, was taken up at court this morning, following instructions to the grand jury by Judge Hildebrand.

One of the first cases to be taken up was that of the Commonwealth against Genaro Conti, charged with the murder of Carmine Organo. The crime occurred on the evening of November 7, when Conti is alleged to have shot Organo through the left eye.

American Woman Attempts Suicide In Seine River

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Miss Bessie Kentner, aged 35, of Hollywood, California, who is secretary to Frank Harris, was rescued from the Seine today.

Police claim that Miss Kentner jumped into the river, but friends of the woman deny this. They state that she has recently suffered a nervous breakdown and that today while walking along the river banks near the Louvre she accidentally fell into the water.

Miss Kentner has recovered from the shock due to her sudden and cold immersion.

The Wheels Go 'Round — By Feg Murray

"Sleepless Carnival" is on again in New York this week, and pedaling around and around the wooden saucer at Madison Square Garden you will find most of the best six-day bike racers of the world competing for the first of the winter's metropolitan insomnia championships.

Among the contestants is Reggie McNamara, who has won ten big races and finished second and third in countless others. I believe "Mac" has competed in nearly 50 long grinds altogether. Reggie came from Australia, which far-off country has furnished so many great athletes in all lines of sport, but he is a naturalized American citizen. Some years ago McNamara sustained a fractured skull while training for a six-day race in Boston, but a little matter like that did not prevent him from competing a few weeks later.

The first of these "sleepless merry-go-rounds" was held in New York in 1891. In those days the riders had to go it alone for 142 hours, resting whenever nature compelled them to. It was about this time that the modern or "safety bicycles came into favor, and in 1893, Al Shock, on his new style wheel, so completely showed up the old high wheels that the superiority of the new bikes was never questioned after that.

A law was passed in 1898 that no competitor in a six-day race could run or ride more than 12 hours out of each 24, so the idea of bike races with teams of two men was hit upon, and this form of racing proved more interesting and exciting than the old kind. Miller and Waller won the first team race in New York in 1899.

Bas-reliefs from ancient Egypt and Babylon, as well as the frescoes from Pompeii, show that two-wheeled vehicles propelled by muscular power were not unknown thousands of years ago. The first velocipede was invented in 1779, although some historians claim that a date nearly 100 years earlier would be more correct. The "Gentlemen's Hobby Horses" of 1818 were followed by the high-wheeled bikes of 1870; then came the "safety", the pneumatic tire, the coaster brake and finally the motorcycle.

Feg Murray Says—

Since the Cornell students uprooted their own goal-posts after beating Dartmouth, we may expect to see a great chess-master pulling out his own hair after winning his next big tournament or Gene Tunney giving himself a sock in the jaw for joy the next time he wins a prize fight.

Canton Woman Goes On Trial In Murder Case

Husband Shot And Killed In Automobile, Woman Is Blamed

(International News Service)

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Mabelle Graham of Canton, O., today was to face a jury in circuit court here on charges of murder in connection with the death of Albert Graham, her husband, who was shot to death while the couple were riding in his automobile near here on Labor Day.

Graham's parents, arriving from Canton brought with them a special prosecutor who was to assist Prosecuting Attorney James R. Wilkin in an effort to prove that Mrs. Graham followed her husband to Wellsburg from Canton for the express purpose of killing him.

The defense will contend that Graham was killed when he sought to prevent his wife, whom he had deserted, from killing herself. Mrs. Graham told a coroner's jury shortly after the shooting that a revolver she held was accidentally discharged during a struggle and that the bullet she intended for herself struck Graham.

The coroner's jury refused to hold the woman, but she was later indicted by the grand jury.

Farm Delegates In Session For Needed Relief

Resolutions Will Be Adopted To Aid Federal Farm Measure

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 6—Approximately 3,000 farmer-labor delegates to the annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation which opens here today are prepared to fight for national legislation to lift the American farmer out of his present economic depression.

Resolutions are expected to be offered that will affect the federal farm relief bill, which, after two defeats, is still very much alive.

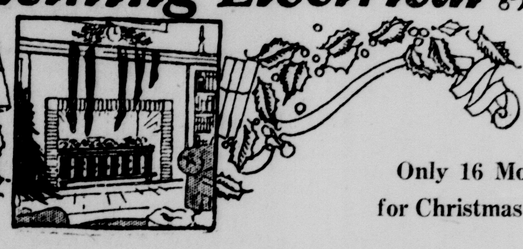

"There will be no wavering in the demand for the passage of legislation designed to relieve the farmer," declared Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, Ill., president of the federation.

"For two years congress has been urged to pass remedial legislation and there have been no results. But during the last year industrial and commerce, as well as agriculture, have learned to realize how vitally necessary it is to correct the situation."

FORMER OFFICER IS REPORTED IMPROVED

Harry Nelson, former well known member of the police force, who has been in a serious condition at the New Castle hospital with pneumonia, is reported to be somewhat improved, although it will be some time before he will be able to leave that institution.

CHARGES PROVE A BOOMERANG

CLEVELAND—Walter McCune, 19, punched a big $5 fine off a punch board in a Cleveland store the other day. McCune had spent more than $2 before winning a prize, and the award not being to his liking, he had the proprietor of the place, Steve Kolomek, arrested on a charge of promoting a scheme of chance. Steve pleaded guilty and was fined $50 when he appeared before Municipal Judge David C. Meck, but the charge proved a boomerang to McCune. After disposing of Kolomek, the judge imposed a $5 fine on the youth on a gambling charge.

IS NATION'S HEALTHIEST BOY

CHICAGO—When boys' and girls' farm clubs met here for the International Livestock Exposition, Warren Griffen, 15-year-old farm lad from Oscar, Ky., was named as the nation's healthiest boy. He won the title in competition with champions from 16 other states. Warren has finished the eighth grade and doesn't plan on going to school any more unless for a short course at an agricultural college. He is a partner with his father in the operation of a farm southwest of Paducah. Warren attributes his health to the fact that he arises before five o'clock every morning and "hits the hay" between seven and eight in the evening.

FORCE LAWYER TO BORROW NECKWEAR

WASHINGTON—When he appeared before the United States supreme court here as an applicant for permission to practice before the highest court in the country, Sid White, cowboy lawyer, of Okemah, Okla., tried to bring a little local color with him. Without a necktie and with his throat bared, he removed a large sombrero on entering the chambers. But the supreme court didn't get the idea. It demanded that the lawyer should see his haberdasher on the grounds that no one had ever appeared before the court minus a necktie. A tie was borrowed for the lawyer and a few minutes later he was admitted, but he removed it on the way out.

Woods & Golder Secure Contract

Council today awarded a contract to Woods & Golder for the construction of a storm sewer in Balph avenue and Moravia street as the result of water flowing into the thoroughfares from Shenango township. The contract price was $1,574. The city will attempt to collect from the township through court proceedings.

Other bidders were: Thorson company, $1,642; Burns Bros., $1,977; Elder & Ferry, $1,616. The estimate of cost furnished by City Engineer Frank Miller was $1,023.80.

No Accidents Say Highway Policemen

Although the heavy sleetfall of Saturday and Sunday and covered with a coating of light snow today caused many automobiles without chains to skid, members of the state highway police at noon today reported they had not heard of any accidents along the highways.

"Autoists should use chains and drive carefully" said one of the highway policemen.

Claims Name Was Forged To Note

Alleging that his name signed to a note, purporting to be given by Alex Beck, Ellen Beck and Joseph Rogers, to the Community Savings and Loan company, for $300, is a forgery, Rogers presented a petition to Judge Hildebrand asking that judgment be opened as to him.

A rule issued was made absolute this morning. This means that an issue will be framed in which Rogers will be plaintiff and the Community Savings and Loan defendant, and a jury trial will be held.

The note is dated January 23, 1926. Rogers says that he never signed the note and that the signature is a forgery. Proceedings on the judgment have been stayed, pending a disposition of the case.

These Improvements are Important

There are two general classes of motor car improvements. Those made primarily for their effect on the public—and those made primarily for their effect upon the car.

You will perceive at once that Dodge Brothers new five-bearing crankshaft, two-unit starting and lighting system, air cleaner and other recent improvements, are the sort that represent genuine value.

They are sound and substantial betterments, producing definite and marked results, and as such they are typical of Dodge Brothers methods and product.

Confederate Privateers—1861.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

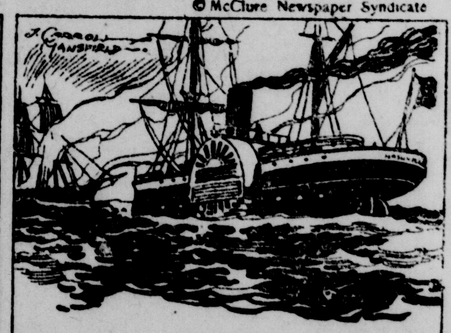

NOT HAVING A NAVY WHEN THE CIVIL WAR BEGAN, THE CONFEDERACY SENT OUT A NUMBER OF SMALL PRIVATEERS. MOST OF THEM WERE CONVERTED MERCHANTMEN OR FORMER FEDERAL REVENUE CUTTERS THAT HAD BEEN SEIZED BY THE SECEDING STATES.

THESE FIRST PRIVATEERS OF THE WAR WERE NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO RISK ENGAGEMENTS WITH THE WARSHIPS OF THE FEDERAL NAVY AND DEVOTED THEIR EFFORTS TO THE DESTRUCTION OF UNION MERCHANT VESSELS ON THE HIGH SEAS.

ONE OF THE MOST FAMOUS OF THE EARLY CONFEDERATE PRIVATEERS WAS THE "NASHVILLE", COMMANDED BY CAPTAIN PEAGRIM. ESCAPING FROM CHARLESTON, THROUGH THE BLOCKADE, THE "NASHVILLE" CROSSED THE ATLANTIC. ON NOV. 17, 1861, SHE INTERCEPTED THE UNION MERCHANTMAN "HARVEY BIRCH" OF NEW YORK IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL.

THE PASSENGERS AND $150,000 CARGO WERE TRANSFERRED FROM THE "HARVEY BIRCH" TO THE "NASHVILLE" AND THE MERCHANTMAN SET AFIRE. THE PRIVATEER LANDED HER PRISONERS IN SOUTHAMPTON AND CONTINUED ON HER CAREER AS A COMMERCE DESTROYER.

To the Shareholders of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania:

The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania, and The First National Bank of New Castle, Pennsylvania, acting pursuant to resolutions of their respective Boards of Directors, have entered into an agreement to consolidate said associations under the name of "First National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle", subject to the ratification and confirmation thereof by the shareholders of each association owning at least two-thirds of the outstanding capital stock thereof, and subject to the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States. The Board of Directors of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania, has called, and does hereby call, a special meeting of the shareholders of the said Bank, to be held at its banking house at No. 101 East Washington Street, New Castle, Pennsylvania, on the 15th day of December, 1926, at 3 o'clock P. M., for the following purposes:

1. To vote for or against the ratification and confirmation of the said agreement of consolidation.

2. To vote for or against the ratification and confirmation of the action of the Board of Directors providing for the transfer to a Pennsylvania corporation to be incorporated of such assets of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania, as are not considered desirable to carry into the consolidation or as shall not be necessary to make up the contribution of the said Bank to the capital, surplus, and undivided profits of the consolidated bank, in exchange for all of the capital stock of the proposed Pennsylvania corporation which will be distributed pro rata to the shareholders of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania.

3. To vote for or against the ratification and confirmation of all other actions taken and agreements made by the Board of Directors of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania, in contemplation of, or in connection with, the said consolidation and transfer of assets.

4. To authorize the directors and officers of The National Bank of Lawrence County at New Castle, Pennsylvania, to do all things by them deemed necessary or advisable to carry out the said consolidation and transfer of assets.

5. To transact such other business germane to the foregoing purposes as may be brought before the meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The industrial stocks were unsettled during early trading today a wave of processional selling passing over the market immediately after the opening. United States Steel lost more than a point on its first sale.

Baldwin opened a point higher, at 155½, declined to 152⅝ and was heavily traded in around 154. A number of speculative pools are believed to be operating in Baldwin stock.

Trading in the railroad stocks was in comparatively smaller volume. New York Central, Southern Railway and Atchison were down about a point. The motor shares were compelled to absorb considerable selling in this period, but offerings were well taken and prices firmed up after the first period. Famous Players and other motion picture stocks continued the forward movement which was in progress at the close of Saturday's session, while oil and copper stocks were unable to retain their new gains.

The call loan market was well supplied and rates were uncharged at 4½ per cent.

Three Women Are Critically Ill From Gas Fumes

Scores In Philadelphia Imperilled As Gas Main Breaks Allowing Fumes To Escape

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6—Three women suffered critical injury and scores of other residents of a block in West Philadelphia, escaped probable death from gas early today when fumes from a broken main filled the dwellings overcoming the victims as they slept.

Those in the Women's Homeopathic hospital are: Mrs. Rose Ingester, 25, Anna Ravetz, 48, and Anna Cahalatseonae, 34.

Squads of police were on the scene shortly after the street became filled with more than 100 panic stricken residents. All scantily clad, many of them fleeing barefoot in the snow-covered street.

Excitement in the neighborhood reached its peak when the escaping gas reached a street lamp and caused a terrific explosion which shattered scores of windows.

State Department Operative Slain In Oklahoma City

Officer Shot And Killed In Home —Blame Powerful Gangdom

(International News Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 6.—A growing and powerful gangdom is today blamed by officers for the murder of Luther Bishop, 37, operative of the state department of criminal identification, while he slept here Sunday. Several shots were fired into Bishop's body by someone who crept into his house, struggled for a moment with the detective after the first shot was fired and then made his escape.

Bishop, due to his activities as a peace officer, had incurred the enmity of many. He was instrumental in the convictions of W. K. Hale and John Ramsey in the recent Osage murder case. He is credited with the killing of Al Spencer, Oklahoma outlaw.

Both of Bishop's guns were gone when officers arrived after the shooting. No arrests have been made.

"Watchful Waiting" Latest Development In Chaplin-Grey Tilt

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6. — "Watchful waiting" was the attitude today in the Charles Chaplin-Lita Grey Chaplin controversy.

There were no statements or counter-statements from either principals or their attorneys.

It was anticipated, however, that the attorneys would meet again early this week to discuss Mrs. Chaplin's reported demand for $1,000,000 and custody of the two Chaplin babies.

Neither Chaplin nor his 18-year-old wife was "at home" during most of the day.

Slayer Refused New Trial By Supreme Court

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—Upholding the judgment of the lower courts, the state supreme court today refused to grant a new trial to David Marshall, chiropractor, serving a ten to twenty year term in the penitentiary for slaying Anna May Dietrich and dismembering her body.

Crawford County Farm House Burns

(International News Service)

MEADVILLE, Pa., Dec. 6.—Fire destroyed the farm house of Wilbur Dennington, three miles east of here, early today, with damage estimated at $5,000. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

The following menu may be used for luncheon, supper or Sunday tea. The Sally Lunn is very delectable served with cheese, jelly, honey or marmalade for breakfast or afternoon tea. Scones are also one of the most delightful "hot breads".

Applesauce Omelet
Sally Lunn Canned Peaches
Cocoa

TODAY'S RECIPES

Applesauce Omelet—Eight apples, four eggs, one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, spices to taste. Stew apples and mash fine, add butter, sugar and spices. When cold, add eggs well beaten, then bake brown.

Sally Lunn—Rub a piece of butter as large as an egg into a quart of flour (four cups), add one tumbler of milk, two eggs, three tablespoons sugar, three teaspoons salt. Stir the baking powder, salt and sugar into flour, add eggs and the milk. Stir all together. Bake in square tins and eat warm with butter.

Scotch Whole Wheat Scones

Three teaspoons baking powder, two cups flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups whole wheat flour, one-half cup butter, one-half cup sugar, one egg, three-fourths cup milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder and add whole wheat flour. Rub in butter with the tips of the fingers or cut in with a knife and add sugar. Beat egg, add milk and pour into dry ingredients, making a soft dough. Knead the dough lightly and divide into two pieces. Make each piece into smooth round, roll, cut and cut into six pieces. Lay on greased tins and bake in moderate oven for 20 minutes. Brush over tops with sweetened milk a few minutes before they are done and return to oven to finish baking. This makes 12 scones.

SUGGESTIONS

Fur Cleaners

Rub sealskin with hot salt to absorb the dirt.

Chinchilla can be cleaned with borated talcum powder.

White or gray angora or tibet will wash in warm soapy water, but great care must be taken to stretch the skin in the process of drying to prevent cockling.

City To Compromise With Property Owner

Solicitor Robert Whate today reported to council that there is merit in the claim of John Leaf, Waldo street, for damages during the grading of Cunningham avenue.

At a session of council held recently Attorney John Lockhart representing Leaf described how Leaf's residence had ben cut off from conection with Cunnigham avenue.

Today Mr. White said the house had been built 35 years ago, before the grade of Cunnigham avenue had been fixed and as a result a compromise will be effected if possible.

Probably the only jockey who has ever reached the age of 100, John Faulkner of Berkshire, England, is proud of a number of records. He has had practically every bone in his body broken at some time or other—the last being three years ago, when he was thrown from a horse and broke his thigh; he was at work till he was ninety; and he is the father of thirty-two children. He received six cents when he rode his first race at Epsom, and rode his last mount when he was seventy-five years old. He paid a visit to Ascot a few years ago, but he was so disgusted with the present style of riding that he left the track after the first race.

County Red Cross Roll Call Will Start This Week

Charles R. Davis Is Chairman Of Roll Call Campaign In County

The annual county Red Cross Roll Call will begin this week in Lawrence county. Charles R. Davis has been named chairman in charge of this roll call for the county. Four days have been designated as roll call days. Days especially designated are Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Supplies are being mailed out to the various captains in charge of this roll call today from the Lawrence County Red Cross headquarters in the Safe Deposit and Trust Building on North Mercer street. It is the aim to make this county roll call as large if not larger than last year.

Large Audience Hears Rev. Smith At City Mission

The week-end services conducted at the city mission were well attended. Good interest is being shown by the children in the Sunday school. Sunday evening Rev. Johnson of the Euclid Avenue M. E. church, also a delegation from his church, were present. The Gibbons sisters rendered several beautiful vocal selections. Rev. Mark Smith took for his subject, "Living in the World's Gallery of Voices." He went on to say there are so many different voices crying out to the world today and many are being confused by the many voices clamoring for a hearing, but it is possible midst all the voices to hear the voice of Christ, which will save us from so many sorrows and troubles. There was a good attendance and some requested prayer. The song service was in charge of R. C. Harrison.

The meetings at the mission this week will be conducted as usual, service beginning at 7:30 each evening.

Recommends Raise For Limitations On Postal Savings

(International News Service)

Washington, Dec. 6.—The limitation placed upon deposits in postal savings should be raised from $2,500 to $5,000, according to a recommendation made to congress today by Postmaster General New. These deposits, on June 30 last, amounted to $134,178,558, an increase of $2,005,347 over the amount outstanding a year ago.

New said the postal savings system, after 15 years of existence, has passed beyond the experimental stage "And may be safely regarded now as a permanent government institution." The present limitation is hampering, he said.

Seventh Ward News

SECOND WEEK OF REVIVALS BEGIN

Most Interesting Services Sunday, Other News Notes Of The Seventh Ward

"The Kingdom of God" was the theme Rev. Harry Maitland preached on Sunday morning in the Mahoning Methodist church. His text was "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness and all these things will be added unto you."

A consecration service followed the church service with the people gathering on the platform, around the altar and in front of the auditorium.

Sabbath evening Rev. Maitland used as his subject "Is There a Hell?". His texts were from Psalm 9:17 and Luke 16:23. Whether we understand it, how it is or where it is. It does not depend on whether we believe it is right or whether we believe it exists. Nor does it depend on denials of scholarship. But whether man should be punished for doing wrong and rewarded for doing good. Is man an intelligent being knowing right from wrong? Is man a moral agent with power to choose to do right and do it, and power to do wrong and do it? Is man immortal? All laws are founded upon the proposition that man is an intelligent being, knowing right from wrong. That man is a moral agent, thereby can be and ought to be punished when he does wrong—with this the Bible agrees. God states definitely in the Bible there is a hell., more important than all arguments. An ounce of God's revelation is of more value than a ton of man's speculation.

Evangelistic services will be conducted each evening this week and next.

At both services Sunday a large audience was present. Sunday evening the auditorium, part of the balcony and Sabbath school room were filled.

They were George Adams, third ward; B. B. Langdon, Neshannock township; W. P. Vogan, second ward, and John Woolayer, first ward.

Happy thought! If there's no other way to make Europe come across, perhaps "Sam" Hill could do it.

Nothing seems so important if you're old enough to remember a dozen controversies that enraged the world yesteryear.

You need sympathy and find a man with a full heart? Rest assured his stomach once was empty.
